To Protest Hijacking

Pilots Launch 24-Hour Worldwide Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Airline pilots launched a worldwide 24-hour strike today to protest hijacking, but only three U.S. carriers were grounded and one of those resumed flights at midmorning.

The strike forced 19 foreign airlines, including most of those in Canada and Western Europe, to cancel service.

In the United States, only Eastern, Northeast and Southern airlines shut down, and Southern said it resumed service at 10 a.m. EDT.

A spokesman for Southern in Atlanta said its 300-plus pilots had voted this morning to end the walkout. Southern serves 67 cities in the eastern half of the United States.

Federal court orders against a strike, including one upheld by the Supreme Court, were a factor in keeping American pilots on the job. But many had voted not to take part before the courts acted.

In Washington, a spokesman for the pilots' association said that "anything less than total participation is disappointing."

The strike, which took effect at 2 a.m. today, was called by the International Federation of Airline Pilots to dramatize its belief that more stringent measures are needed to discourage airplane hijackings.

Service on Trans World Airlines, American Airlines, Northwest Airlines, Delta Airlines, United Air Lines and Western Airlines was reported to be running normally.

Foreign airlines were more uniformly out of service. Those listing no flights today included Irish Airlines, Scandanavian Airlines System, Air France, Sabena Belgian World Aorlines, El Al, Ai Canada, Alitalia, Lufthansa, Swissair and Air New Zealand.

Czechoslovakia said air traffic would be halted for one hour to protest air piracy and memoralize the death of a Czech pilot killed in a hijacking last week.

Airports in Hong Kong, Manila, Tokyo and Berlin reported minimal disruptions, but air service in London was thrown into confusion. A Pan Am spokesman in New York said the airline was experiencing problems in two airports—Vienna, where ground crews were walking out in sympathy with the protest and the Panama City airport, where cars were said to be blocking ramps leading off the runways.

Frank Borman, vice president of Eastern Airlines, said the cancellation of all 1,500 of its daily flights would cost the line about $2.5 million in revenues.

More than one million passengers around the world are estimated to travel daily by plane. There are 50,000 airline pilots worldwide and about 31,000 employed by U.S. air carriers.

Chief Justice Warren E. Berger refused Sunday to lift a temporary injunction barring the work stoppage. His action returned the case to the federal appeals court.

Other airlines which predicted normal service today were Ozark, National, Allegheny and Braniff.

Court Declares

Wiretap Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today declared illegal the government's wiretapping of suspected domestic "subversives" without a warrant.

Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr., speaking for the court, said the wiretapping without judicial permission is unconstitutional as well as unauthorized by the 1968 Safe Streets Act.

The former Richmond lawyer, appointed to the court by President Nixon, said: "The danger to political dissent is acute where the government attempts to act under so vague a concept as the power to protect 'domestic security'." He added:

"The price of lawful public dissent must not be a dread of subjection to an unchecked surveillance power. Nor must the fear of unauthorized official eavesdropping deter vigorous citizen dissent and discussion of government action in private conversation. For private dissent, no less than open public discourse, is essential to our free society."

The Nixon administration and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell maintained both the Fourth Amendment and the 1968 federal law permit eavesdropping without warrants against individuals or groups that the Justice Department concludes may pose a danger to national security.

Both contentions were slapped down by Powell in an opinion which Justices Powell's decision something less than full support.

The case involved government wiretapping of Lawrence Plamundon, a White Panther accused of bombing a Central Intelligence Agency office at Ann Arbor, Mich. Federal District Court Judge Damon Keith of Detroit rejected the government's position and ordered transcripts of the wiretaps turned over to Plamundon's lawyers. The government appealed to the U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati, lost there in April 1971, and then appealed to the Supreme Court.

Powell, Blackmun and Burger are all appointees of the Nixon administration.

Lab Report Shows

Fish Kill Due To No Oxygen

PORTAGEVILLE — A kill of 8,800 pounds of channel catfish on May 24 in the River Road Fish Lake, east on Highway 162 and owned by Shirrell Smith, apparently resulted from lack of oxygen, according to a laboratory report from the Missouri Department of Conservation received by New Madrid conservation agent Bob Henrickson.

The report from tests at Jefferson City stated no evidence of toxic materials was found in water samples taken from the three-acre lake. Aquatic organisms present along the shoreline in shallow water were types which withstand low-dissolved oxygen levels.

The dead fish did not indicate evidence of organic phospate insecticide poisoning.

Smith said today he will not reopen the lake this year but will restock and open early next spring after the lake is drained and modified to provide two lakes separated by a levee and equipped with sufficient aeration equipment.

Smith said fish caught from the lake were not contaminated in anyway and were safe to eat.

Car Hits House And 2 Planes

A car slammed into a house at 161 Presnell Dr. at 7 p.m. Saturday, knocking a hole in the garage wall and heavily damaging two airplanes parked inside.

Larry Hornback, who was standing in the garage when the car came through, said he didn't have an estimate this morning on how much damage was done, but he said it was substantial. He is the owner of the home and aircraft.

Both airplanes were heavily damaged. One was a 1927 antique Travel Aire and the other was a homemade plane that Hornback has been working on for the past two years.

The driver of the car, Paul Forrest of 1515 Matthews Ave., told police he swerved to avoid a child on a bicycle and lost control of his car while he was traveling north on Missouri Street. The car passed through a narrow opening between a utility pole and a hedge en route to the house without striking either.

Rapid Reading Course Begins Here Tonight

A rapid reading and comprehension short course will begin tonight in the community room of Production Credit Association at 240 North Kingshighway.

The class, sponsored by the University of Missouri Extension Service, will be held from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. weekly for eight weeks. Cost of the course will be $35, including textbook.

Another class began at 2 p.m. today in the Delta Center Auditorium at Portageville.

Both classes will accept "walk-ins" up to 40 persons.

Man Charged In Drug Store Theft Here

Marvin Baker, 911 West North St., has been charged with petit larceny after he allegedly attempted to steal a package of cigarettes from Osco Drugs in Kingsway Plaza Mall.

Baker was seen taking the cigarettes from the store without paying for them and was stopped outside the store by Lee Hodges, an employe. Baker pushed Hodges away from him and ran. He was chased by employes out of the building.

The employes and police caught him in a field behind the mall. The cigarettes were found in a ditch nearby.

Other arrests over the weekend included: Argel Kellett, 908 Moore, public intoxication. James L. Cox, 122 South St., public intoxication. James Kenneth Elkins, 400 S. Main, public intoxication.

Car Burns At Marston

MARSTON — A 1967 Ford driven by Roberta Woods, 1522 Ogden in St. Louis, was destroyed by fire at 5 p.m. Sunday one-half mile south of the Marston interchange on Interstate 55.

Portageville fireman L. C. Keith said the fire occurred when the right front tire blew out and fire spread to the remainder of the car.

Keith said the car was engulfed by flames by the time the department arrived.

No one was injured.

Housing Officials To Tulsa

Billy C. Hanna, executive director, and Richard James, commissioner of Sikeston Housing Authority, attended the annual southwest regional conference of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials in Tulsa, Okla., last week.

The conference was attended by representatives of housing authorities and urban renewal authorities from Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado. Also attending were officials from the department of Housing and Urban Development in Washington D.C. and regional offices.

The group was advised of current changes in the laws and the effects they will have in government programs.

Two Fires In Charleston

South Vietnamese Find Going Tough

SAIGON (AP) — Two South V etnamese drives had hard going today despite President Nguyen Van Thieu's claims that North Vietnam's troops were demoralized and bogged down and their offensive had failed.

In the air war, the U.S. Air Force said its jets wrecked a large segment of North Vietnam's air defense system, knocking out more than 200 pieces of equipment in four days in the southern half of North Vietnam. And the United States ended a four-day suspension of bombing attacks in the Hanoi-Haiphong area following the departure of Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny from the North Vietnamese capital.

Thieu said he was ordering a new three-month campaign to take back the territory lost to the North Vietnamese in their offensive that began March 30. Nearly 3,000 marines launched a new sweep south of the demilitarized zone, while rangers supported by tanks opened a new push to clear Highway 13 between Saigon and An Loc.

The ranger drive fell apart almost immediately under a barrage of North Vietnamese shell fire 10 miles south of An Loc. A senior U.S. adviser was killed, and many of the rangers were wounded. The column, which had just gotten orders to move, pulled back.

Sikeston Man Held In Cairo

CAIRO — Cairo police are holding a man wanted by Sikeston, Mo., authorities for cashing a series of bogus checks.

The man, using the name Jack Eugene Davis, cashed more than $500 worth of checks drawn on Bank of Augusta, Ark., and First National Bank of Searcy, Ark.

Davis wrote three checks to Dunn Hotel totaling $165, one to Missouri State Opitcal Co. for $38, one to Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. for $75 and one to Yanson Jewelery for $284. He also wrote one for an undisclosed amount to Britts department store.

Sikeston police notified Cairo after learning he was there. Police say they have recovered some of the goods purchased with the bogus checks.

Sheriff Dennis To Seek Re-election

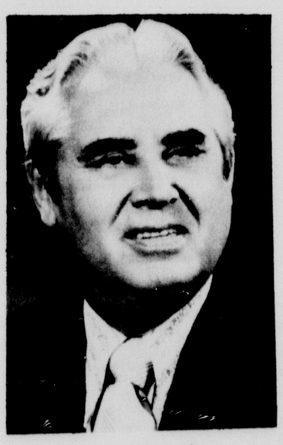
Scott County Sheriff John Dennis formally announces his campaign for re-election.

Dennis states that he feels his experience and familiarity with the problems involved, as well as his personal acquaintance with practically everybody in the county, gives him a deep insight into crimes as it involves Scott County.

Dennis has been recognized by the National Sheriff Association as one of the outstanding sheriffs in the United States when he was selected by that organization to attend the National Conference on jails at Denver, Colo., and to attend the Honor Society of the New York Police Department. He has been given a life membership in that organization.

Dennis has also served as president of the Missouri Peace Officers Association with a lifetime membership. He has also served as President of the Missouri Sheriffs Association and president of the Southeast Missouri Law Enforcement Association as well as having been an active worker with youth organizations throughout the years.

In 1964 Dennis was recognized by the Missouri Sheriffs Association as being the outstanding Sheriff in the State of Missouri.



John Dennis

Dennis pledges, if re-elected, he will continue to devote his entire time and efforts to the duties of the office, giving his personal attention to the daily problems faced by the sheriff's office, as he has always done. It is on this basis that he solicits the support of all Scott County voters.

Dennis has lived in Scott County all of his adult life. He and Mrs. Dennis have three married daughters, all of whom reside in Scott County. Dennis spent six years in the Armed Forces and served as a Marine in the Southwest Pacific area during World War II.

Immunization Laws Have Been Revised

Scott County Health Department advises parents of pre-school children that school immunization laws have been revised to include immunization against rubeola or measles and rubella or three-day measles.

Others required are polio, diphtheria and smallpox. Tetanus and pertussis may be included in the faccine.

Parents should see that their children have the required immunizations before the beginning of the new school year.

Charity Show To Aid Area Retarded

Sikeston Horseman's Club will sponsor a charity horse show Saturday at 8 p.m. in its arena on Route H two miles north of Ramada Inn. Proceeds from the 20-class show will be donated to the Mental Retardation Center and Regional Diagnostic Clinic.

Harold Smith, president of the club, said the show is a trial run for an annual charity horse show.

There will be classes for all age riders, including gaited pleasure.

State Senator J. F. Patterson of Caruthersville has withdrawn as a candidate for re-election, and with that decision Missouri has lost an unusual fiscal conservative. Senator Tinnon is my good friend too and I only hope that he can get up to the position someday that Senator Patterson has occupied. When he was in charge of the appropriations he saved Mt. Vernon for me two or three times and not that he has gotten so busy, and I don't blame him for not wanting to make a race out of it, because it is a lot of work, but he is a fine man and after he is no longer in the Senate Southeast Missourians are going to miss him very bad and they may think that the Supreme Court or whatever it was that divided the new districts did a good job, but I think not, if you want my opinion.

LINCOLN'S WORDS
RING TRUE

Spoken during another terrible war, the words of Abraham Lincoln ring just as true todya. This is what he said during the Civil war:

"It is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling Power of God; to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon; and to recognize the sublime Truth announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that these nations only are blessed.

"And inasmuch as we know that by His Divine Law, nations, like individuals, are subjected to punishments and chastisements in this world, may we not justly fear that the awful calamity of Civil War which now desolates the land may be but a punishment inflicted upon us for our presumptuous sins, to the needful end of our national reformation as a whole people?

"We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of Heaven. We have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity. We have grown in numbers, wealth and power as no other nation has ever grown; but we have forgotten God.

"We have forgotten the Gracious Hand that preserved us in peace, and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us; and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts that all these blessings were produced by some superior virtue and wisdom of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving Grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us.

"It behooves us then, to humble ourselves before the offended Power, to confess our national sins, and to pray for clemency and forgiveness."

A NEW VIEWPOINT
ON EMPLOYMENT

At a time of high unemployment, the level of absenteeism and turnover in the automotive industry is the highest in history.

"This is contrary to every economic expectation and is typical of new attitudes which will require the humanizing of work and of organizations," says Prof. Louis Davis of the University of California.

Davis has launched a major project, underwritten by a $160,000 Ford Foundation grant, to study ways of improving the quality of working life in the United States.

Examining the same evidence, a management consultant has come up with the similar diagnosis.

"Never before has the American worker been so important to the nation's economy as right now," says Roy W. Walters. "But in the present business environment, with its emphasis on productivity at all costs, we may be losing sight of our human resources."

Yet another management consultant, citing the nation's failure to create a full employment economy compatible with stable prices, suggests we need a fundamental re-evlauation of our traditional concepts of free enterprise capitalism.

Before World War I, when much of the economy was in the hands of the self-employed and small family enterprises, we enjoyed virtually full employment and stable prices, writes William McDonald Wallace in an article in the Wall Street Journal.

But as big business rose to dominate the economy, it made a tragic mistake in its approach to labor, he says. It oped for a bureaucratic social order in response to the classical economists' assumptions about "economic man."

This "economic man" is a different species from the social animal we know as man. Belongingness, esprit de corps and comaraderie are emotions and motivations unknown to him. He sells his services impersonally to the highest bidder and moves on without regret in response to a higher offer.

Equally without regret, the buyer-employer lays him off in response to changes in market demand.

To put it another way, business bureaucracy pays the job and not the man, regarding its employes as impersonal sellers of labor services who must compete with each other for "better jobs."

Consider, by contrast, the spectacularly successful Japanese economy, says Walters.

The idea of "economic man" makes no sense at all to the Japanese. Trying to make people conform to an economist's abstract model of the economy is to them a product of the inscrutable Occidental mind.

In the Japanese view, corporations, depend on teamwork rather than individual effort, and since esprit de corps and camaraderie improve teamwork while satisfying deeply felt human needs, why not take advantage of this fact?

The Japanese have created a system of lifetime employment tenure. They pay the man, not the job, and pay him a flexible wage related to corporate performance.

Thus the Japanese can adjust to a business slump while maintaining stable employment. Whatever the vagaries of the business cycle, the individual employe in Japan looks forward to promotion and hence better pay until he retires.

"The famed loyalty and dedication of Japanese employes does not reflect the mysteries of their upbringing so much as the pragmatic policies of their employes," says Walters.

"Nor does the erosion of the work ethic in America reflect some mysterious greening process. Rather it reflects the poisonous effect of bureaucracy on teamwork."

REASONS WHY MISSOURIANS
WILL NOT SIGN PETITIONS
TO RAID ROAD FUNDS

1. Signing for the proposed transit bonds constitutional amendment would be "signing away" our highway improvement program for the long run.

2. $225 million of road taxes would be diverted to urban rapid transit, airports and transit lines if enough voters sign the initiative petitions, and later, support the amendment, if it should get on the ballot.

3. It is unfair to tax one mode of transportation (highways) for the benefit of competing modes.

4. It would be like taxing restaurants to subsidize cafeterias, or taxing motels to keep hotels in business.

5. It is unfair to tax only one element of the population (highway users) for general purpose facilities (air terminals and transit lines).

6. Where mass transit and airports are needed in the larger cities they are usually financed from general taxes. Also, there are new Federal-aid funds for both mass transit and aviation.

7. It is unfair to tax rural and small-town Missourians to assist St. Louis and Kansas City. Agriculture, the resort and tourist business and all the county seat towns will receive little benefit.

8. City transit should be financed by its beneficiaries, like highways are financed by the users, or by general revenues from the metropolitan areas.

9. This proposition is based on an unfair principle of taxation. The number of miles a man must drive, or the horsepower of his car, should not be measures of his responsibility for rapid transit or airports.

10. The proposed road fund raid amendment contains several other issues which should be dealt with separately. The proposed $730 million transportation bond issue will not be needed for highways because the Legislature recently passed a 2 cent per gallon gasoline tax increase. Interest and debt service on the bonds will total $1,204,500,000 through the year 2007 -- more than the original issue.

11. Motor fuel taxes and motor vehicle fees are special use taxes imposed for the sole purpose of building and administering highways. They are "tolls" for the use of the highways. Their use for transit and airports would be a violation of their basic purpose.

12. Deficienceis in the Missouri highway and street program exist in virtually every area in the State. Any diversion of road taxes for non-highway purposes will curtail highway improvement plans.

13. Missourians have voted four times for constitutional protection of highway funds in 1928, 1945, 1962, and 1970. Road funds are similarly safeguarded from diversion in the constitutions of 28 states. Several other states allocate all road taxes for roads by statue.

14. Motor vehicle owners are now very heavily taxed. They provide the entire cost of the State highway and freeway systems without subsidy. Also they support the Missouri Highway Department, State Highway Patrol, the Motor Vehicle and Driver License Divisions, and make substantial allocations to several other State government departments. There is no ethical reason why they should now be asked to support additional, local, non-highway functions.

ARE TRADING STAMPS
HERE TO STAY?

Contrary to what the critics of trading stamps say, a recent survey showed that more than three out of four households in the nation save and redeem trading stamps. The Ideabook catalog taken home by housewives, now supplemented by a new "Luxury Gifts" catalog in 800 redemption centers, contains more than 2,400 items from about 850 manufacturers. Selection ranges from a bon bon dish to a Chris Craft Power cruiser. About 30,000,000 Ideabooks go into the homes of stamp savers each year. They are packed in 280,000 cartons made from 101 tons of recycled paper and distributed through 70,000 merchants across the country.

DEMOCRACY OR MOB RULE?

Democracy has a well-recognized weakness to be constantly guarded against -- that is the danger on mob rule. This ever-present danger is the reason for the division of governmental powers embodied in the U. S. constitutional system by the founding fathers. The need for division of power and the checks and balances it imposes on the governing process becomes greater and more apparent with each passing year as modern means of communication arouse emotional reactions among the populous on a massive scale.

Many firearm control measures have been proposed during recent months. The manner in which private citizens, who do not go along with the supposed popular sentiment have been abused for their views is nearly unparalleled. For example, The National Rifle Association, representing private citizen gun owners, was one victim. The Association's primary function is educational. The dues of its members are utilized for setting up and running, both national and international competitive shooting events and thousands of training and safety programs for both sportsmen and police forces. Much of its effort is directed toward conservation and environmental improvement. Yet, as a Congressman from Florida comments, "This organization last year was subjected to one of the most prolonged, vicious and intense indictments by the press and by some elected officials that I have ever seen..."

The NRA became the target of extreme antigun campaigns simply because its officials and its members expressed their beliefs forcefully on an issue they believe involves a threat to our basic liberties. Their actions have illustrated the contrast between responsible self-government and stampeding emotionalism. By tradition and by law, the right of gun ownership in the U. S. is nearly as fundamental as the right to vote.

FOUR—SQUARE
ON ALL FOURS

There is a rumor, facetious no doubt, that Ralph Nader has a secret report which declares the human foot is unsafe to walk upon. This is not particularly funny to those who believe that a great many human ills can be traced to walking on two feet instead of four like other animals. Our four-footed friends are much more stable dynamically than those who stand erect. And anyone who has crawled around the floor looking for a dropped contact lens must have become aware of the advantages of quadrupedal travel. A reversion to four-footed locomotion would have some disadvantages, but would be an economic boost to the shoe business, for example, and would present clothing stylists with unique opportunities. The idea ought to be thoroughly discussed in Washington at the highest official level (about two and a half feet) and action, if indicated, taken as soon as Congress creeps back after New Year's.——Post-Dispatch.

ASSAULTS ON POLICEME

Chief Frank Dyson of Dall has come up with an idea stop assaults on officers of t law and the Texas Legislatu likely will hear this plan soo Stunned by the murder three of his men in the la seven months, the chief fe that an attack on an offic ought to carry the dea penalty if the guilty person h intentions of killing. Under h plan, capital punishment wou be the maximum in such cas and a 10-year prison sentenc the minimum.

Law-Aid, the program t assist police and sheriff departments, would like to s stringent laws in all states. T gunning down of policem has become all commonplace. An outra citizenry can get tou legislation passed if it insis with vehemence tha something be done to protec the guardians of the law. Th murder rate is climbing in thi country and observers of our legal system believe that it can be attributed at least in part, t the staying of capital punishment by the Supreme Court. That body still has not made a final determination on cases that are on appeal.

Officers of the law constitute our first line of defense. They protect our homes and our persons. They are now getting the respect and assistance they need to carry on the fight. Talk to any officer in your hometown and he will tell you the same thing. Routine traffic arrests have become a deadly game. The officer never knows when he will be shot even during these minor pursuits of his job of law enforcement.

Law-Aid urges your assistance in the field of law enforcement. The policeman must have the support of his community if he is to do his job of protecting lives and property.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Inside Story: Republican Labor Chiefs Want Nixon To Dump Agnew for Rockefeller

WASHINGTON — A campaign in this political season to win the Vice Presidential nomination for an undeclared non-running "candidate" is as rare as a stork at an old age home. Yet it's building up behind Nelson A Rockefeller. There are strong forces who want to bump Vice President Spiro Agnew with the New York Governor.

There are influential forces upon which Republican tacticians now depend for much of their Northern strategy. These forces are a network of labor leaders who are the traditional establishment throughout much of the Northeast. Private talks with many of them, and with at least one powerful national labor chief now a White House intimate, disclose they want the New York Governor in Washington circa 1973 so he can logically reach for the Presidential nomination come 1976.

These men, politically, fraternally and socially close to the Governor for over a decade, are convinced "Rocky" is determined to take "one more crack" at the Presidency.

It was all summed up by the Number One Hard Hat, Peter Brennan, leader of the New York Building and Construction Trades Council, at the swinging dinner party thrown by the Governor and Happy Rockefeller at their Pocantico Hills estate June 12.

"I have always felt badly the Governor never made President," Brennan, who is also close to Richard Nixon, said a serious moment after a songfest. "You're the greatest and we are with you 100 per cent."

Much applause from other labor chiefs and their ladies. There's unseen significance here. These men who socialized with Nelson Rockefeller that night are sophisticates who needn't be told when to politicalize.They are the infrastructure of the Republican Labor Task Force created by John Mitchell's Committee For the Reelection of the President.

These union men have lent - literally and figuratively -- one of their sons to the Committee as a labor coordinator. He's Bernard DeLury, virtually unknown because he is the essence of self-effacement, son of Nelson Rockefeller's politically powerful ally, the New York Sanitation men's union chief, John DeLury.

These men and scores of their colleagues will try their own political strength on for size late in the week of June 19. With them will be those labor chiefs who have decided to break early with their Democratic party union brethern. They will not take Sen. McGovern.They reckon the Democratic Party will be split - perhaps splintered -- whether or not McGovern is nominated and certainly should he win the Presidency.

So the Republican labor leaders will gather next Wednesday or Thursday on the top floor of the Capitol Hill Club here. They'll try to carve labor planks for the Republican Platform Committee which will meet Aug. 14 to 16.

Anywhere from 50 to 300 union leaders are expected to stand up and be counted at the Capital Hill Club sessions.

This is a long way in time, sound and fury since the lonely 1968 GOP labor platform hearings. Then AFL-CIO chief George Meany presented the federation's bulky suggestions and left.That was it. But several score labor leaders constitute more than a presentation. They are a demonstration.

They represent over 5 million unionists. No one says they can deliver their votes. But they do lead them. And their open collaboration with the President's reelection committee will be a signal for a swing to Richard Nixon.

But this legion is not for Sprio Agnew. He has not tried to woo them -- not even those who once were his legal clients in Maryland and who backed him in a gubernatorial race. Now these labor men want "Rocky" who, it appears from inside reports, also has Teamsters General President Frank "Fitz" Fitzsimmons with him. No one is telling the President what to do. But neither are they concealing their sentiments.

And according to one who should be described as higher than the usual White House "source," neither is the President hiding his feelings.

"There was a feeling over in that Oval Room not too long ago that it would not take very much for the Vice President himself to bug out," says this insider. "Up until early March Agnew appeared to be suffering from vice president-itis. I got the feeling he couldn't care less whether he was on the ticket.

"This coincided with (John) Connally's getting hot. Peaking. Then it seemed to some of us that the President deliberately peaked Connally because he (Mr. Nixon) was piqued with the Vice President.

"Nixon wanted to stimulate the Vice President to become a lot more active, to assert himself, to make a fight for it. There's no sign now that the President is unhappy with Ted Agnew."

But the labor leaders are. Gov. Rockefeller has delivered to them for over 14 years and now they want to deliver to him.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON: -- Some of the nation's most prestigious banks and insurance companies have been putting up money for shady mortgages.

Such eminent institutions as Chase Manhattan, Manufacturers Hanover, Metropolitan Life and Prudential Insurance are helping to finance a mortgage racket, which is blighting our cities and defrauding ghetto dwellers.

In Boston, Detroit, Philadelphia, New Orleans, New York City, St. Louis and Southern California, pressed and pomaded bankers are up to their boutonnieres in FHA mortgage scandals. The cost to the taxpayers runs into the billions (B).

Part of the story will unfold this week before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee. Bearded, bemused chairman Phil Hart, D-Mich., always fair to a fault, will take testimony from a host of financial tycoons, mortgage men and FHA officials.

As with most financial scandals, the details are complex, but the results have been stark. Here's the scenario:

Ghetto dwellers in search of accomodations go to fast-buck real estate operators with a ready supply of rundown houses for sale. "Why rent?" urge the salesmen. "Why not buy?"

With a sucker on the hook, the real estate dealers call in unscrupulous mortgage companies to arrange the financing. By bribing FHA appraisers and falsifying credit ratings, these companies have been able to obtain FHA loans far above the value of the houses.

SHORT STAY

The proud new home owners usually can't afford the huge payments they have been hornswoggled into contracting. Often, the houses are in such disrepair that they break down, and the new owners can't afford to fix them.

Result: the FHA mortgage is foreclosed and the helpless purchasers are back in the street.

After the eviction, the scavengers move in and strip the houses of everything that can be carted off. In many inner cities, whole neighborhoods look like bombed-out sections of Berlin after World War II.

This doesn't bother the mortgage companies or the banks behind them. They are paid off by the FHA at face value. It's the taxpayers who are stuck with houses that are unsaleable or, at best, worth nowhere near their FHA mortgages.

The big banks and insurance companies enter the deal through the back door. Mortgage companies, you see, are always short of cash and go to the banks for loans.

For instance, New York City's biggest mortgage company, Eastern Service Corporation, now under indictment for fraud in connection with its mortgages, called upon Chase Manhattan, the aristocrat of the banking world.

Chase Manhattan cheerfully granted the mortgage firm a line of credit for more than $20 million and even bought up some of Eastern Service's dubious mortgages. There was no risk for the big bank. The mortgages were backed up by the FHA, and Eastern Service, in the meantime, paid high interest rates.

UNDER THE ROCK

Prudential Insurance, which urges its customers to own " a piece of the Rock," doesn't mention the sordid ghetto mortgages in its advertising. But if the customers will look under "the Rock," they will find about $14 million worth of mortgages purchased from Eastern Service.

As evidence that Prudential was suspicious of these ghetto mortgages, it is permitted under the deal to sell back to Eastern Service any mortgages that fall into arrears.

Metropolitan Life, apparently, was more a victim of naivete than of greed. It decided to put money into the inner city and asked Manufacturers Hanover to obtain some ghetto mortgages. The bank went to Eastern Service and other mortgage companies.

Many of these mortgages have now ended in foreclosure and the houses have been abandoned to neighborhood vandals.

Spokesmen for Chase Manhattan, Prudential Insurance and the other respected financial institutions earnestly insist they were unaware they were doing business in shady mortgages.

Footnote: Several smaller banks have found failing, non-FHA mortgages on their books. They have peddled the bad mortgages through mortgage companies to unsavory speculators. The speculators managed to get FHA mortgages on disastrously rundown property, and then sold the government-backed mortgages back to the banks for a profit. Again, the taxpayers were stuck.

HIGHWAY INFILTRATOR

The Senate subcommittee on roads, now dealing with controversial matters affecting the Federal Highway Administration, has surprisingly taken on an employee of the administration to help with staff work.

The Highway Administration wants to keep the multibillion dollar highway trust fund intact for the benefit of the road builders, but the subcommittee insists that the new staff member is not an infiltrator. The interloper, Clyde Woodle, is a $12,000- year engineer-trainee at the Highway Adminstration. But his views run counter to the administration's head, Francis Turner, who is often accused of wanting to pave over America.

"If you think everyone shares the views of (Turner), you're wrong," Woodle said in a talk with us.

Committee counsel Barry Meyer admitted there were no environmentalists on the subcommittee to balance the recruit from the Federal Highway Administration. But Meyer said if an environmental group wanted to send over a qualified trainee, the subcommittee could use him.

Portageville Horse Show Shaping Up As One Of Largest

PORTAGEVILLE — Entries in the 15th annual Kiwanis Charity Horse Show are being received daily from outstate Missouri, the Bootheel and adjoining states of Arkansas, Illinois, Tennessee and Kentucky, according to J. D. Stafford, chairman.

Stafford said it appears the 11-class show Thursday at Reaves Athletic Field is shaping into one of the largest shows held.

Big River Appaloosa Horse Club is returning for the second year to present an exhibition with costumed riders.

An added attraction to the show is awarding an attendance prize of a pony named "Shinbone" in commemoration of the city's 100th anniversary. To further promote the centennial observance, period costumes will be worn by ribbon girls, Kiwanis members and wives and spectators.

A trophy, five place-money prizes and five ribbons will be awarded in each class. Classes are: two-year- old walking horses, English pleasure, juveniles on walking horses, fine harness ponies, three- year- old walking horses, three- gaited horses, ladies on walking horses, five- gaited horses, amateurs on walking horses, roadster to bike ponies, and walking horse stake.

Committee members announced by Stafford are: advertising, Erwin Lloyd and Cuz Moreland; barbecue stand, Dr. O. A. Huck, Jerry Pattillo, Charles Ladd, Francis James and Charles Lynn; clean- up, Louis Daugherty, Bill Brown and all Kiwanians; gate, Jim Stafford, Bud Sisson, Floyd Drew, Ray Smelser, Claude Foster and Harold Young;

Grounds, Preston Shaw; gym and open gates, G. Robert Williams; lighting, Howard Graham and Bob Gill; registration, Leonard Hand, Tom Brister, Faye Atwill and Hugh Woods; reserve seats, Garland Butler, Dwight Bryant and Ronnie Marler; refreshments, Bill Moore, Roy Moore, Delbert Edgar, Gary Baker and Jack Kriedler;

Ribbons, Mrs. Leonard Hand and Mrs. June Ransburgh; ring, J. D. Stafford; street decorations and signs, Evans Baker and Howard Graham; sweet shoppe, Mrs. Jim Stafford; and water tank, Louis Daugherty.

What's The Law?

The Case Of The Contested Abortion

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

Chester found abortions abhorrent. What's more, they were being performed practically right under his nose. Around the corner from where he lived was a hospital and in that hospital, he maintained, babies were being killed. So, he and several of his friends decided to do something about it. They appeared in court demanding that the hospital be ordered to stop performing abortions.

"Under the Constitution," they argued, "life is legally protected. And, if mothers won't protect their unborn children, then the courts should!"

"Chester's idea of life," was the answer, "is a misconception. The Constitution deals with people and not unborn children. Consequently, Chester's argument must be dismissed and his application for an order denied."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you send Chester home without his order?

This is how the judge ruled: YES!The judge held that there is no authority for the position that the Framers of the Constitution contemplated fetal life, or thought of unborn children, as persons to be protected under the Constitution.

Nor is there any reason to believe that Congress had a fetal life in mind when it drafted the Civil Rights Act. The protection to be afforded fetal life, concluded the judge, is a problem for the legislatures of the various states. They must decide the problems in the light of moral issues, the conflicting rights of the mother and child, the extent of medical knowledge and the interests of the state. Eight Die In State Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least eight persons died in Missouri traffic accidents over the weekend.

Two illinois women were killed in a three-vehicle crash on Interstate 70 in St. Charles County late Sunday afternoon. Authorities identified the victims as Cynthia Shirley, 21, of Casyville, Ill., and her mother, Catherine Curtis, 51, of Collinsville, Ill.

Earlier Sunday a 13-year-old Hale, Mo., girl, Victoria Ann McPheper, was killed when the farm tractor she was driving overturned.

Dannie LVee Johnson, 18, Stanberr, Mo., died early Sunday in a one-car accident on a county road northwest of King City.

Killed Saturday were:

Henry L. Thomas, 8, Springfield, when a motorcycle on which he was riding with his father collided with a car in that city.

Mae Clark, 71, Neodesha, Kan., when the car in which she was riding was struck by another car on Highway 171 south of Carl Junction.

James Phillips, 65, Dade City, Fla., in a one-car accident on U.S. 61 in Ste. Genevieve.

Mrs. Shirley Freeman, 29, Fort Hamilton, N.Y., in a onecar accident on Interstate 44 at the north edge of Springfield.

Farmers To Discuss Sunflowers

PORTAGEVILLE, — A meeting for farmers to learn about oilseed sunflowers as an additional cash crop will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Delta Research Center here.

Elmer G. Carlson, president of the Carlson Sunflower Co. of Audubon, Ia., will discuss oilseed and sunflowers as an answer to the cyst menatode problem which threatens soybeans in this area.

Carlson is a former world's cornhusking champion, having won that title several times in the days when corn was husked by hand.

Officials Attend Accounting Sessions

JEFFERSON CITY — Ten Scott county officials and deputies, along with those representing each of Missouri's 102 other third and fourth class counties, participated in informational sessions conducted recently by the state auditor's office.

Scott County participants were Tom Marshall and Barbara Naile of the collector's office, Verneta Martin of the county clerk's office, and Lynn F. Ingram, circuit clerk. Magistrate-probate office was represented by Josephine Klipfel. John J. Bollinger of the recorder's office, Sheriff John Dennis and Mary Tatum of the sheriff's office, Hess Porter, treasurer, Gene Nunnelee, coroner, and Thomas Gilmore, prosecuting attorney, also attended.

Seventy- six sessions were held during March through May to acquaint officials and their office personnel with new uniform accounting systems designed and developed for county officers by the state auditor's office.

The sessions were conducted by professional accountants and systems analysts and by representatives of certified public accounting firms.

This is the first time the state auditor's office has taken responsibility to provide accounting systems for county government.

Mr. and Mrs. David Ronald Brown

Brown-Hulshof

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Church of the Sacred Heart was the setting of the May 6 wedding of Miss Rosemary Hulshof, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Hulshof of Portageville, Mo., to David Ronald Brown, son of Mrs. Charles P. Brown and the late Mr. Brown of 352 Williford, Memphis.

Father Patrick Lynch, pastor of Sacred Heart, was the principal celebrant at a concelebrated mass. He was assisted by Father James McLean, also of Sacred Heart, Father Coleman Borgardt, chaplain of St. Joseph's Hospital, Father Tim Tighe of St. Patricks, all of Memphis; Father Marcus Voss of St. Bernard, Ala. and Father Amela Shibley of St. Eustachius, Portageville. Servers of the mass were David Hulshof, Gordon Hulshof, Kenny Hulshof, all nephews of the bride, and Lanny Joe Brown, nephew of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown of silk organza and Alencon lace. The empire bodice was circled in lace and fashioned with a high neck edged in matching lace. The A-line skirt was appliqued with motifs of lace. The detachable train was chapel length. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was secured to a satin bow headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white daisies.

The bride chose as her only attendant, her sister, Mrs. Jane Marie Houston of Memphis, as matron of honor. She was attired in a light aqua blue empire linen with white embroidery insertions of bell sleeves, waist and skirt. She carried yellow daisies. A wreath of yellow daisies formed her head piece.

The groom chose Fausto Urrutia of Decatur, Ala., as best man.

Ushers included Francis Hulshof of Portageville, Joseph Hulshof of Oran, Paul Hulshof of Charleston and Vincent Hulshof of Benton, all brothers of the bride, and Lanny Brown of Memphis, the groom's brother.

Providing music eof the nuptial mass was Tom Holcomb, organist.

After the marriage rite, Father Tom Donohue sang, "We'll Walk WithGod."

Preceding communion, Mrs. Jean Paul List sang, "The Lord's Prayer". After communion, duets by Father Donohue and Mrs. List were "Panis Angelicus," "Eternal Life," "Sabbath Prayer" and "Blessed Are They Who Serve The Lord."

For her daughters's wedding, Mrs. Hulshof wore a shell pink knit with matching accessories. Mrs. Brown wore a pale blue coat dress with white accessories. Both wore white orchids.

A luncheon - reception followed the ceremony at Four Flames Restaurant. Tony Berrazzo provided organ music.

Attending from Portageville were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hulshof, Francis Hulshof and family, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Priggel, Mrs. Stella Hulshof, Mrs. Mary DeLisle, Mrs. EllenMilam, Miss Mary Louise DeLisle of Poplar Bluff, Miss Mary Emma Hulshof of Ste. Genevieve; from Oran, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hulshof and family; from Charleston, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hulshof and Kenny; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hulshof and family of Benton; Mrs. Sam L. Hedgepeth and children of New Madrid.

Guests from Memphis included Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Joan Farino and Lisa, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Brown and family, Lanny Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. David Morence, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Maquire, Miss Sara Keefe, David Milem, J. Ann Landers

Romeo Has Field Narrowed To Nine

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to say something to the 17-year-old guy who just discovered sex last year and is making it with 12 different girls. He can't understand why he is dead tired all the time and wants to know if it's "normal." His signature was "Dragging My Caboose."

I can tell you a thing or two about that lunatic because I was one of the 12. The reason I know he's the guy is because he was bragging all over school this morning that his letter made Ann Lander's column. The minute he made that statement, his count went down to 11.

I used to think you were a square, talking about virginity and the value of saving yourself for somebody decent, the high price of free love and how the girl always pays whether she realizes it at the time or not. You said the price is guilt and shame, a ruined reputation and finally no self respect.

You hit me right in the face with all of it, Ann, and I want to let you know I'm sorry I ridiculed you and I've learned my lesson. --- Slow Study

P. S. The envelope was sealed but I opened it to add this. Two other girls in my gym class just told me they were also among the 12. Now they want nothing more to do with him. This means his count is down to nine. If it keeps up he's going to get plenty of rest. Thanks, Ann. --- S. S.

Dear S.S.: Never mind about HIM, honey. Keep this column handy. Some lessons need to be learned more than once.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's brother, his wife and their two children moved a few doors from us last summer. They are a nice family and I know my sister-in-law would do anything in the world for me.

The problem is the way they talk. When Vera wants a favor she never says, "Will you please ..." It's always, "I want you to ..."

Yesterday her 12-year-old boy rang the doorbell and said, "Mom wants you to bring her a five pound sack of sugar when you go to the market today."

My husband was standing there and I asked him if he had noticed the rudemess. He said, "Yes, I did notice it -- but it doesn't bother me because I know they mean well." He said it would be better if I didn't mention it because it might cause strained relations.

What do you say, Ann? I admit it rankles me and I'm not so sure my husband is right. --- Like The Trimmings

Dear Trimmings: I'm not optimistic about the chances for retraining your sister-in-law, but I feel you should certainly say something to that 12- year-old kid Sample: "How about hooking a please onto that instead of just giving an order?"

Dear Ann Landers: Why would a person you've known for years walk right past you and not speak? This happened to me twice last week (same woman) and I am utterly baffled. This woman is not a close friend of mine but we are in the church auxiliary together and she is always pleasant and sociable at the meetings. Both times when she passed me by she was with another person. It occurred to me that maybe she felt I wasn't worth recognizing since my social status is somewhat beneath hers. Can you think of any other possibility? I feel --- Slighted And Hurt

Dear S and H: The other possibility is that she didn't see you. There are thousands, maybe millions of women who have poor vision and refuse to wear glasses. And some of these dames can't hear so well either. So if you said "hello" in a low voice, she may not have heard you.

Discover how to be date bait without falling, hook, line and sinker. Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," will help you be more poised and sure of yourself on dates. Send 35 cents in coin along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and your request to this newspaper.

Cole-Lashmet

Janet Sue Cole

BERTRAND — Mr. and Mrs. William Cole, Jr., Route One, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet Sue, to Robert Lashmet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lashmet of Sikeston.

Miss Cole is a 1971 graduate of Kelly High School and is an operator for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Sikeston.

Lashmet graduated from Sikeston High School in 1971 and is employed by Malco Theatres.

Wedding plans are incomplete.

SHS Students Making Fourth Quarter Honor Roll Announced

The following Sikeston High School students made the honor roll for the fourth quarter during the 1971-72 school year. The students are recognized for academic achievement in the ability level in which they are working.

Inclusion in the Honor Roll indicates excellence for the current school quarter and must not be confused with rank-in- class or grade point averages, which indicate total high school achievement to date.

It is possible for students to "make" the honor roll but not qualify for college admission or reduced insurance premiums.

Rampley-Dodge

DEXTER — Before a setting of an arched candelabra with yellow tapers, flanked by large arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and potted ferns, wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Claudia Kay Dodge and Kenneth Larry Rampley. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Marshall Dark at First Missionary Baptist Church May 27.

Miss Dodge is the daughter of Mrs. Fred F. Dodge of Dexter and the bridegroom is the son of Frank Rampley of Bloomfield.

Organist was Mrs. Betty Garner who played pre-nuptial selections, "We've Only Just Begun," 'Love Story," "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," "Romeo and Juliet" and the Traditional "Wedding March." "The Wedding Prayer" was played as the couple knelt for the nuptial blessing.

Given in marriage by her brother, Steve Dodge, the bride had selected a gown that she and a cousin, Miss Tricia Jackson had designed and fashioned. The gown of bridal satin featured an empire waist of embroidered lace trim and matching lace appliques on the long skirt, rounded neckline, long Victorian puff sleeves and a detachable train rimmed with matching embrodiered lace. Her veil of bridal illusion was attached to a headpiece of organza rosettes and fell in layers to the waist and a longer layer to chapel length. Her bridal bouquet was composed of a cascade of yellow mums, white carnations and ivy.

Maid of honor was Miss Linda Kaye Rampley of Bloomfield.

Candlelighter was Miss Jeanne Jenkins.

Best man was Charles Schefer, Bell City. Serving as ushers were Steve Kilby of Columbia and Leonard Shaver of Dexter.

Guest book attendant was Miss Cathy Meadows of Dudley.

A reception was held in the church basement.

Miss Kay Roberts, Miss Tricia Jackson and Miss Judy Christian, all of Dexter, and Mrs. Beverly Kilby of Columbia assisted with the serving.

The couple left on a wedding trip to the Ozarks.

The couple will reside at 1206 North Sassafras in Dexter. The bride graduated from Dexter High School in 1972 and plans to attend nursing school at Poplar Bluff.

The bridegroom graduated from Bell City High School in 1969 and is employed by Stites Concrete of Dexter.

Graham-Haworth

MALDEN — The wedding of Miss Barbara Kaye Haworth and Jay Wray Graham took place June 3 at First Christian Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Haworth of Malden and Mr. and Mrs. Jay C. Graham of O'Fallon.

The double- ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Bob Brock of Cherryvale, Kan.

Stuart Tyler of Mechanicsville, Va., organist, played the Wedding March and accompanied Miss Claudia Slaneker of Santa Cruz, Calif., as she sang "Memories" written by the groom for the bride, "Wedding Prayer" and "They Surrender All."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk organza over bridal satin. The fitted bodice of imported French re-embroidered lace, etched with sequins and seed pearls, featured a stand-up collar, and long, full organza sleeves appliqued with lace and ending in wide, lace cuffs which were closed with self buttons. The slightly full, floor- length skirt was enhanced at the hemline with matching lace appliques adorned with sequins and pearls.

Lace leaves and an organza and lace bow, trimmed with seed pearls held secure her four- tiered veil of illusion edged with lace. The veil extended to Cathedral length and was adorned with appliques of matching lace. White peau shoes completed her wedding attire.

She carried a bouquet of Cattleya orchids and pink roses nestled in baby's breath.

Mrs. Larry Force of Memphis, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Jeanie Moore of Malden and Miss Shirley Davis of Bernie.

Charles Mays of Muskogee, Okla., served as best man, and the groomsmen were Larry Force of Memphis and Rance Hopwood of Malden. The ushers were Randy Hector of Malden and Dave Morton of Ohaha, Neb.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

Assisting in serving the guests were Miss Georgia Anderson, Miss Susie Anderson, , and and Mrs. Martin Lucas. Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. Sparrel Davis and Mrs. Glen Hopwood were in charge of the reception.

Guests were pre- registered in the church foyer by Miss Sherri Haworth, sister of the bride.

The bride graduated from Malden High School and attended Ozark Bible College at Joplin.

The bridegroom graduated from Fort Zumwalt High School in O'Fallon and from Ozark Bible College, where he received a bachelor of sacred literature degree. The couple will reside temporarily in O'Fallon and in the near future will go to Toronto, Canada, where they will both work with the Toronto Christian Mission. Graham will make tapes and programs to be radioed behind the Iron Curtain.

Out- of- town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Delores Shafner of San Jose, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brock of Cherryvale, Kan.; Bob R. D. Fox of Little Rock, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fox and family of Newport, Ark.; Mrs. C. H. Force of Memphis; Mrs. William E. Gordon of Risco; Mrs. Woodrow New and Kathy, Mrs. Radan Keene and Mrs. Mike Keene of Clarkton; Mr. and Mrs. John Clement, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Barnhardt and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis and Charles of Bernie; John Crosby, Mrs. Wendell Crosby and Mrs. E. J. Williams of Parma; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lucas of East Prairie and Mrs. Elaine McCracken of Kansas City.

Artists And Craftsmen To Participate In Lebanon Fair

LEBANON — Craftsmen and artists from the four-state area of Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma have been invited to participate in what has been termed the Ozaks' newest and most unique arts and crafts fair to be held at historic Orla Mill near Lebanon this fall.

Date for the event at the old restored grist mill 16 miles southeast of Lebanon on the Osage Fork of the Gasconade River has been set for Sept. 23 and 24, according to Orla Mill, Inc., which is sponsoring the fair.

Directors anticipate over 100 exhibitors and several thousand persons to attend the two-day event. Exhibits will include such crafts as oil and watercolor painting, quilting, woodcarving, candles, homemade soap, neelecraft, pottery and handcrafts of all kinds.

Refreshments will be served on the mill grounds. Hours for the fair will be from 9 a.m. to dusk on Saturday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday. Visitors to the fair will be within a short drive of Bennett Spring State Park, known for its trout fishing, and the Lake of the Ozarks. Roads to and from the area are paved.

Booth space will be rented to exhibitors who will display and sell their wares on the picturesque mill grounds. Some displays will be placed inside the mill house. Persons or groups wishing to exhibit native handcrafts and artwork at the fair should write Orla Mill, Inc., 364 N. Jefferson, Lebanon, Mo., or call (417) 532-3581. Registration deadline for exhibitors is Aug. 15.

Couples who say they have never quarreled in 30 years of marriage are either unique or suffering from temporary amnesia.

Health Program Possible Issue

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A compulsory national health program for all Americans presented by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, A-Mass. and Rep. Wilbur O. Mills, D-Ark., and the political implications of their joint appearance, highlighted the regional hearing of the Democratic National Platform Committee Saturday.

Although financing and other mechanics of the health insurance plan have not been worked out, the program appeared likely to become a plank in the party platform to counter a more-limited employer-employe health insurance proposal by President Nixon.

Outside the hearing, Mills and Kennedy fielded more questions about the possibility of their being running mates at the Democratic National Convention than about the health program. Kennedy repeatedly said he was not a candidate but Mills said the him: "I just hope you're looking at the ticket."

Mills, grinning broadly with each question, was asked if kennedy might be the presidential candidate with himself as a running mate.

"I hope you're looking at the two nominees right now," Mills said. "In reverse order." Biographical material on Mills furnished to the hearing was stamped at the top, "Mills for President."

Kennedy, questioned again about his political plans, finally laughed and said, "Let's talk about health."

The regional hearing was the seventh in a series of 12 and it produced dozens of witnesses, each with a cause; minority groups, women's rights, prisoners, homosexuals, white ethnic problems, senior citizens, consumer matters, drug abuse, pension funds, education, abortion, anti-abortion, welfare rights, ecology, farm workers, the peace movement, party reforms and others.

Witnesses repeatedly called the Democratic party "the party of the people" and expressed the belief tht only the federal government was powerful enoough to attack and solve the domestic problems.

Elmer Hammond was there from the Pruitt-Igoe housing project in St. Louis. He said the federal government built it "as a prize," in the 1950s but now it has turned into "vast chaos.... a jungle."

The government really doesn't know what to do with Pruitt-Igoe," Hammond said. When asked what should be done, he said angrily: "Tear it down. Something decent should be provided," he said, so women are not afraid to step out of their doors. "Pruitt-Igoe is a national problem."

Mayor A. J. Cervantes of St. Louis repeated his call for a massive federal attack to rehabilitate the nation's cities, something similar to rehabilitate the nation's cities, something similar to the post-World War II Marshall Plan for Europe. He also called for the federal government to provide up to 90 per cent of financing for urban mass transit systems and subsidies to keep bus lines operating.

Harold J. Gibbons, international vice president of the Teamsters Union, said there should be a convention plank calling for a minimum wage of $2.50 an hour instead of the present $1.60. He proposed a reduction in the work week from 40 to 30 hours and continuous unemployment pay for workers at 75 per cent of wages until they return to work.

Elbert Hill, a member of the United Auto Workers Union in St. Louis called for a right-towork plank, saying compulsory unionism takes away a worker's freedom of choice.

Agnes Picks Up Speed

APALACHICOLA, Fla. (AP)—Florida's panhandle was lashed by gales and crashing seas today as Hurricane Agnes thundered toward a landfall, with 14 person killed after eight tornadoes had touched down in various parts of the state. The Weather Bureau said all apparently were spwaned by Agnes.

Seven persons were killed in south Florida and seven died earlier in Cuba as the storm raked the tip of the island and roared northward through the Gulf of Mexico.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami said the hurricane's 80-mile-an-hour winds were bearing down on Apalachicola, a sleepy town in the center of a popular tourist area.

"She's getting very close to land now," said forecaster Arnold Sugg.

The Hurricane Center said Agnes' eye was just off the panhandle coast.

Highest sustained winds were estimated between 75 to 80 m.p.h. with gusts whipping up to 95 m.p.h. in squalls.

A tornado watch was issued for an area 80 miles either side of a line from Brunswick to Columbus, Ga., and flash flood watches were posted for southern Georgia and northern Florida.

Tor nadoes were blamed for five of the deaths in Florida while two persons were reported drowned in Franklin County near Apalachicola.

Four persons were killed and scores injured early today in Okeechobee, when a twister swept into the tiny central Florida community

Doctors, Industrialists Among Dead In Crash

LONDON (AP) — A British jetliner crashed Sunday just after taking off for Brussels, killing all 118 persons aboard. It was the worst air crash on British soil, and the dead included 34 Americans.

Among the victims were at least 12 British physicians on their way to a professional congress and several top leaders of Irish industry.

The three-jet Trident airliner, operated by British European Airways, plunged into a field near a busy road two minutes after taking off from London's Heathrow Airport. The plane was full, many of the passengers having booked seats to beat the international pilot's strike today.

Britain's aerospace minister, Michael Heseltine, visited the crash site and said later "both flight recorders on the plane have been recovered and their information will be fed into computers to help the official inquiry into the disaster."

Most of the Irish victims were members of a delegation of industrialists going to Brussels for talks at the headquarters of the Common Market.

Among them were Con Smith, president of the Confederation of Irish Industry; Michael Sweetman, an economist and writer who was director of the Irish Council of the Eruopean Movement; Ivan Webb, chairman of the Council of the Irish Employers' Federation; and Guy Jackson, an executive of Guinness Brewery who played on Ireland's Davis Cup tennis team.

The doctors were traveling to an international homeopathic congress. Among them were Dr. Thomas Fergus Stewart, an authority on homeopathy, and his wife Dr. Elizabeth Stewart. He was superintendent of a hospital in Glasgow, Scotland.

FATALITY ANALYSIS FILE: AN EFFORT TO SAVE LIVES

JEFFERSON CITY – Although he retired from the Missouri State Highway Patrol in 1963, Paul E. Corl still investigages as many as 10 or 12 fatal traffic accidents in a single day.

However, Corl no longer is confronted with the grisly scene of entangled flesh and steel. Instead he conducts his investigation from behind a walnut desk in the offices of the Missouri Division of Highway Safety. The former trooper has a new job and title – traffic fatality analyst.

The reports are submitted to him by the various law enforcement agencies across the state for inclusion in a nationwide Fatality Analysis File.

FAF is part of the first organized national effort to reduce fatal accidents through the determination of their causes. Missouri's program, the first of its kind, is fully funded through a $25 thousand grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation. A $50 thousand federal grant is expected to continue the program next year.

"I think it's an extremely important program for the state of Missouri," Robert E. Burgess, director of the division, said. "Previously just gut decisions and judgements, rather than absolute facts, were used to determine the cause of fatal accidents."

The file is based primarily on hard accident reports, which are in reality the field reports filled out by the officers at the scene of a crash.

It is Corl's job to investigate beyond these field reports before forwarding them to Washington where they are placed in a computerized nationwide fatality analysis file by the National Highway Safety Administration.

"Officers don't have time to make a complete investigation to make a determination," Corl said. "The FAF has to go beyond the hard report to find out the cause of an accident."

Corl's work does not begin until about 10 to 15 days after a fatal crash occurs. During this period, the field reports work their way through channels to him.

Once in Corl's hands, he begins to supplement the field report with such information as the coroner's decision, the driver's driving record background and physical condition prior to the accident.

"We want to know if the driver had any previous violations or accidents, or was imbibing prior to the accident," Corl said.

Corl also has to determine the background of the vehicles involved in the fatal accidents which would include any history of accidents or mechanical defects. He also will follow up on those injured in an accident, checking into some factor existing at the scene that made possible the survival of an individual who received injuries. One such factor, Corl said, is the promptness in the arrival of emergency medical service.

Other information included on the extensive legal-size questionaires that must be completed by Corl and his staff include: dynamics of the accident, location, lighting, weather, time of day, day of week, and road conditions.

Young Demos Of St. Louis County Endorse Dowd

ST. LOUIS – The United Young Democrats of St. Louis County have announced their endorsement of Edward L. Dowd for Governor.

Doug Pew, president of the club, announced the Young Democrat endorsement in a statement issued through Dowd headquarters in St. Louis.

Pew said, "Ed Dowd is the only candidate not tarnished by scandals and hints of conflict of interest that are increasingly, in the public's mind, being associated with various public officials."

"Dowd's past record insures that, as governor, he will be his own man, free from political entanglements and able to lead Missouri into the future with confidence and a sense of purpose."

How to beat the savings squeeze.

It's so hard to save a buck. By the time all the bills are paid, there's nothing left to squeeze out of your paycheck for savings.

But there is a way to build a nest egg without having to worry about it. When you join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, an amount you designate will be set aside automatically from each paycheck and invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. By saving a little from each paycheck, you don't feel the pinch. And before long, you'll find you've a sizable nest egg stashed away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Ease your savings squeeze. Join the Payroll Savings Plan.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.
Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Reuss Masters One-Hitter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jerry Reuss and Steve Arlin gave Philadelphia and Pittsburgh the old 1-2 Sunday while Tom Seaver delivered his knockout punch on Cincinnati.

Reuss, 23-years-old today, came within three outs of giving himself a birthday to remember. He held the Phillies hitless for eight innings before Larry Bowa ripped a leadoff double in the ninth, then finished with a one-hit 10-0 victory that enabled the Houston Astros to close in on the Reds in the National League West.

San Diego's Arlin fired 1-0 two-hitter at the hard-hitting Pirates, the second straight shutout for the lowly Padres over baseball's world champions, and dropped them into second place in the NL East, one-half game behind New York.

The Mets slipped back into first place when Seaver checked the Reds on five hits for his first complete game since April 26 to become the NL's first nine-game winner and also slammed a tie-breaking home run in the seventh inning. The defeat sliced Cincinnati's margin over Houston to 1 1/2 games.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs edged Los Angeles 5-4 on Don Kessinger's 11th-inning single, Montreal's Mike Torrez tossed a two-hitter to beat Atlanta 2-1 and San Francisco trounced St. Louis 8-2.

Reuss allowed only four baserunners, all on walks, until Bowa ripped a 1-1 pitch down the third base line to end his no-hit dreams.

"It was a good pitch," Reuss said, "a low fast ball. I kind of had mixed emotions, but it did take some of the pressure off.

Baseball Tournaments Set

The first step toward a state baseball crown takes place Saturday, when the Sikeston 13-year- old all-stars battle the Tri- County All-Stars in a two- out- of- three couble elimination District 3 playoff at V.F.W. Stadium. The winner will advance into the state finals June 30 at Chaffee.

Larry Lancaster and Charlie Dye will manage the Sikeston 13- year- old unit announced over the weekend.

Thirteen- year- olds making up the Sikeston All-Star team ininclude: David Deal, Larry Keller, Jeff Limbaugh, Kenny Standridge, Allen Davidson, Bill Hampton, Bob Leible, Larry Jackson, Rob Stearnes, Gary Silverthorn, Mark Silverthorn, Joel Montgomery, Jr., Garry Griffen, Derek Lefler, Mark Launius, Scott Scherer, Tony Delaroasa and Dwayne Barnett.

The Sikeston unit will play the Tri- County All- Star unit, made up of boys from nine towns. Teams making up the Tri- County All-Stars include Bertrand, Oran, Vanduser, Benton, Bloomfield, Lutesville, New Hamburg, Delta and Advance.

Saturday's first of two games in the District 3 playoff will get under way at 2 p.m. The second game gets under way at 7 p.m. If a third game is needed in the double elimination tourney it will be played Sunday at 2 p.m.

During July Sikeston will be host to both the Junior and Senior Babe Ruth District 3 playoffs. The junior division, which includes the 13, 14 and 15- year- olds will play July 17 in a six- team, double elimination tourney.

Teams entered include Sikeston, Charleston, New Madrid County, Chaffee, East Prairie and Tri- County. The winner will advance to the state finals July 26 at Joplin. State winner advances to the regional tournament scheduled at Fargo, N. D., Aug. 8-13. Regional winners move to the World Series the following week in Pine Bluff, Ark.

The Senior Babe Ruth playoff, for players 16, 17 and 18 years of age, is scheduled for the weekend of July 14, 15 and 16. Bankers And IBEW Claim Jr. Victories

Bank of Sikeston and International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers posted the only two victories in Junior Babe Ruth action over the weekend.

Both the Senior Babe Ruth League and all three of the Sikeston Little League divisions were idle over the weekend.

Bank of Sikeston picked up a 4-1 opening win in the Jr. Babe Ruth League over Hart's Bread. The winning lineup only conntected for one hit in the contest, but took advantage of six Hart's Bread miscues.

Errors in the second and third inning sent a run home in each as the Bankers jumped into an early 2-1 lead. Two errors and a crucial walk in the sixth inning paved the way for the final two Bankers runs.

Self went the distance for Bank of Sikeston and collected the win. Wissman was tagged with the loss.

The second contest found IBEW an 8-5 winner over Eagles. IBEW took advantage of three second inning walks, an error, a hit batsman and only one hit jumping into a decisive 7-0 second inning lead over Eagles.

Eagles challenged the lead with 2 runs in the third and three more runs in the final inning but the IBEW squad prevailed in the 8-5 contest. Four hits in the final inning paved the Eagles' final rally in the last inning.

Eagles managed to outhit the winning IBEW squad, 8-5, as Blankenship and losing hurler Leible paced the losers with two hits apiece.

Shaffer, Shain and Barnett collected the only three hits for IBEW, while teammate Cobb went the distance for the win from the mound.

Blue Wins On Hairy Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was Mustache Day in Oakland and, for a change, things didn't get hairy for Vida Blue.

Treated to only one run in the first 25 innings he pitched this season, Blue had begun to wonder whether he was wise to abandon the steel business and end his six-week holdout for a return to baseball.

But his faith was restored by an encouraging 16-hit attack that gave the A's a 9-0 romp over Cleveland Sunday. For his part, Blue allowed just four hits and came away with his first victory of the season after three losses.

The combination of Blue on the mound and free admissions to anyone wearing a mustache, lured 33,277 fans to the ballpark in Oakland. More than 7,000 of them showed up with hair under their noses and were ushered in to watch Blue operate for no charge.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Chicago rapped Boston 8-4, Milwaukee shut out Kansas City 3-0, Minesota edged Baltimore 4-3 and Detroit shut out California 2-0. Texas' game at New York was rained out.

Watching Blue operate was certainly no charge for the slumping Indians, who've now lost 18 of their last 23 games.

Mike Epstein's ninth homer of the year and George Hendrick's No. 3 helped the A's build a 3-0 lead in the first five innings. There were two out in the sixth when the roof fell in on Cleveland.

Larry Brown walked and Blue followed with an infield hit. An error by Graig Nettles scored one run and Joe Rudi's hit brought home another. After a walk to Reggie Jackson loaded the bases, Sal Bando doubled for three more runs and the A's added a sixth run before finally being retired.

Milwaukee's nine-game losing streak ended as Skip Lockwood limited Kansas City to five hits and the Brewers shut out the Royals.

George Scott scored two of the Brewers runs—the second one when he reached second base after striking out in the sixth inning.

Scott had opened theinning by fanning but when catcher Jerry May dropped the third strike Scott took off for first base. May recovered the baseball but his throw to first struck Scott and the runner wound up on second base. He stole third and then scored on Ellie Rodriguez' second double of the game.

Baltimore's nine-game winning streak ended at the hands of Minnesota—but barely.

The Orioles, trailing 4-1, scored two runs in the eighth before reliever Wayne Granger shut off the rally.

Harmon Killebrew drilled a pair of run-scoring singles as the Twins took the early lead. Jim Perry, 6-5, was working on a two-hitter and coasting when he walked Johnny Oates in the eighth. Boog Powell singled him to third and then Brooks Robinson greeted Granger with a double, making it 4-2.

Terry Crowley followed with a single that scored one run but the Twins cut Crowley down trying to stretch his hit and then Granger bailed out of the jam by getting Dave Johnson on a fly ball.

Detroit took over first place in the AL East as Mickey Lolich shut out California for his 11th victory of the season.

Homers by Jim Northrup and Norm Cash accounted for the Tiger runs and Lolich made them stand up with a masterful seven-hitter.

McMahon Memorial

Daily Standard Sports Editor Ron Jaynes today announced another change in the paper's annual award presentations which honor coaches of the year in football and basketball and the district's number one basketball team.

Earlier this month it was announced that the coaches of the year awards would be made memorial presentations in honor of two of the district's most distinguished coaches, Arnold Ryan and Kenny Knox.

"It is with both honor and sorrow that I announce that the Number One team award presentation will be memorial to coach M.M. McMahon," Jaynes said. "Coach McMahon made my job easier with his cooperation and help, and I feel that his name upon the annual award will add prestige to the honor."

McMahon coached for 37 years and served youth with his knowledge and guidance. He died June 11 due to a heart attack. He was coach at Holcomb High School at the time.

Besides his coaching, coach Mac served on the basketball advisory committee of the Missouri State High School Activities Association and was the senior member of The Daily Standard sports panel of coaches, serving all five years on the board.

ZWOLLE, La. (AP) — Jim Welch of Amelia, La., recorded a catch of 87 pounds, 6 1/2 ounces Saturday to capture the $5,000 first place prize in the National Open Bass Tournament.

Dr. Jim Hebert of Sulphur, La., got $500 for the biggest bass which weighed 7 pounds, 1 1/2 ounces.

No Relief For Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Pitcher Sam McDowell of the San Francisco Giants said Sunday he didn't mind being pulled from a tied game against the St. Louis Cardinals since it meant a win for him and his club.

"I like to finish every game I start, like most guys," said McDowell. "But when you've got people like (Ed) Goodson sitting on the bench and it means winning a game, you don't mind coming out of there."

Sam was removed from the contest by Giants manager Charlie Fox in the top of the eighth, with the score tied 2-2.

Pinch hitter Goodson faced cardinal reliever Diego Segui and presented him with a tworun single which put San Francisco ahead to stay.

The Cardinal starter, Scipio Spinks, got the loss as San Francisco went on to win 8-2. Spinks was sent to the clubhouse early in the Giant eighth. Manager Red Schoendienst said he hoped Segui's touted fork ball would stop the Giants' drive.

"I gave my father his Father's Day present last week when he saw me hit a homer in Pittsburgh. This was a little extra," Goodson said of his single. "I was looking for either a fork ball or a curve. He (Segui) threw me a curve, which hung, and make it easy to hit. I jumped on it."

Goodson has been hitting about .300 in his fill-in duties. He batted for McDowell Sunday.

McDowell got his eighth season victory with last inning help from youngster Randy Moffitt.

The victory before 19,957 home fans made the Giants even on the road with 14 wins and 14 defeats. The club is a shaky 7-28 in play at Candlestick Park.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, June 19, the 171st day of 1972. There are 195 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1819, the SS Savannah arrived in Liverpool, England, after the first Atlantic crossing by a steamship.

On this date:

In 1586, colonists sailed from Roanoke Island, N.C., ending the first settlement of the English in America.

In 1754, a congress of seven American colonies was held in Albany, N.Y., to discuss union for defense.

In 1867, Emperor Maximilian of Mexico was executed.

In 1756, in India, 146 British prisoners being held by natives suffocated in a dungeon which became known as the Black Hole of Calcutta.

In 1862, the U.S. Congress prohibited slavery in U.S. territories.

In 1953, Ethel and Julius Rosenberg were executed at New York's Sing Sing Prison after being convicted as spies.

Ten years ago: U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and French President Charles de Gaulle met in Paris and discussed the sharp differences between the United States and France over nuclear tactics in the Atlantic Alliance.

Five years ago: Egypt's President Abdel Nasser named a new Cabinet, with himself as premier, in a government shakeup after Egyptian defeat in the six-day war with Israel.

One year ago: Protests mounted in Congress over an attempt by the Nixon administration to suppress a New York Times' series on Vietnam based on secret Pentagon documents.

CHECK FROM THE CHIEF—Mrs. W. C. Westmoreland, honorary vice-president of the Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Airmen's Club, accepts a check for $3,000 on behalf of the club from Chaplain (Maj. Gen.) Gerhardt W. Hyatt, Army chief of chaplains. The check represents a collection taken on a designated Sunday of all Army chapels in the greater Washington area. The club, in operation since 1872, is a "home away from home for active-duty enlisted men" visiting the Washington area.

Wallace May Walk With Help

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — George C. Wallace's doctors have handed him a superb Fathers' Day present: word that he has a 90-per-cent chance of being able to move about with assistance within six months.

Following delicate surgery Sunday to remove from his spinal canal a bullet that has left him paralyzed from the waist down, the Alabama governor's physicians indicated he will be able to attend next month's Democratic National Convention.

But they said there is less than a 50-50 chance he will ever be able to walk normally again. Chances are better, they implied, that Wallace will be able to partially conquer his paralysis to the extent that he could walk a few steps with the aid of braces and crutches.

They stressed an even-more-likely prospect: that Wallace will be able to stand unassisted and to move about with the help of crutches and braces "by swinging along, rather than walking," even if the paralysis persists. This would mean he would not have to spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair.

These possibilities were outlined at a news conference several hours after completion of the 90-minute operation to remove the bullet.

Wallace was shot several times May 15 as he concluded a rally at Laurel, Md., in his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Dr. Stacy Rollins, the Holy Cross Hospital neurosurgeon who headed the seven-man operating team, said Wallace's spinal cord—the telephonecable-like rope of nerve fibers that transmits nerve messages between the brain and the rest of the body—was bruised but intact.

150 Dead In Storm

HONG HONG (AP) — More than 150 persons were feared dead today after three days of torrential rains, floods and landslides on Hong Kong island and the adjoining Kowloon peninsula.

Avalanches roared down two hillsides Sunday night, wiping out an area of squatter huts on Kowloon and demolishing three apartment buildings in a chaine reaction on Victoria Peak, on the island.

Floods, landslides and rock falls were caused in the British colony by the three-day storm that dumped more than 25 inches of rain on the area.

The chain reaction on the Peak started when an old, unoccupied, two-story structure on an upper level road collapsed onto a six-story apartment building on the next level down. This building had been ordered evacuated earlier when torrential rains undermined part of its foundation, but it was not known whether all residents had moved out.

The two-story and six-story buildings formed the nucleus of the avalanche that roared on down the hillside and demolished a 12-story apartment building, then veered and hit a 14-story apartment house.

Workshop For Custodians Opens Today

POPLAR BLUFF — A four-day class for custodians of schools and other public buildings will be conducted today through Thursday at Three Rivers Community College by the Missouri State Department of Education.

TRCC has been designated as the instructional center for the four counties of the Three Rivers Junior College District (Butler, Carter, Ripley and Wayne) and for all of Oregon, Stoddard and Dunklin counties and the cities of Risco and Gideon in New Madrid county.

The classes are for custodians requiring state certification. To be certified, custodians of schools and various governmental buildings are required to attend classes for a specified number of hours each year.

The fees are charged for the classes, which will be conducted by four instructors assigned by the State Department of Education. Hershel Batten, director of maintenance for TRCC, is one of 29 persons designated by the state as instructors in custodian and maintenance practices.

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: Banks involved in shady mortgage deals; watch out for Chase Manhattan 'friend'; a 'look beneath that 'piece of the rock'

To Protest Hijacking

Pilots Launch 24-Hour Worldwide Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Airline pilots launched a worldwide 24-hour strike today to protest hijacking, but only three U.S. carriers were grounded and one of those resumed flights at midmorning.

The strike forced 19 foreign airlines, including most of those in Canada and Western Europe, to cancel service.

In the United States, only Eastern, Northeast and Southern airlines shut down, and Southern said it resumed service at 10 a.m. EDT.

A spokesman for Southern in Atlanta said its 300-plus pilots had voted this morning to end the walkout. Southern serves 67 cities in the eastern half of the United States.

Federal court orders against a strike, including one upheld by the Supreme Court, were a factor in keeping American pilots on the job. But many had voted not to take part before the courts acted.

In Washington, a spokesman for the pilots' association said that "anything less than total participation is disappointing."

The strike, which took effect at 2 a.m. today, was called by the International Federation of Airline Pilots to dramatize its belief that more stringent measures are needed to discourage airplane hijackings.

Service on Trans World Airlines, American Airlines, Northwest Airlines, Delta Airlines, United Air Lines and Western Airlines was reported to be running normally.

Foreign airlines were more uniformly out of service. Those listing no flights today included Irish Airlines, Scandanavian Airlines System, Air France, Sabena Belgian World Aorlines, El Al, Ai Canada, Alitalia, Lufthansa, Swissair and Air New Zealand.

Czechoslovakia said air traffic would be halted for one hour to protest air piracy and memoralize the death of a Czech pilot killed in a hijacking last week.

Airports in Hong Kong, Manila, Tokyo and Berlin reported minimal disruptions, but air service in London was thrown into confusion. A Pan Am spokesman in New York said the airline was experiencing problems in two airports—Vienna, where ground crews were walking out in sympathy with the protest and the Panama City airport, where cars were said to be blocking ramps leading off the runways.

Frank Borman, vice president of Eastern Airlines, said the cancellation of all 1,500 of its daily flights would cost the line about $2.5 million in revenues.

More than one million passengers around the world are estimated to travel daily by plane. There are 50,000 airline pilots worldwide and about 31,000 employed by U.S. air carriers.

Chief Justice Warren E. Berger refused Sunday to lift a temporary injunction barring the work stoppage. His action returned the case to the federal appeals court.

Other airlines which predicted normal service today were Ozark, National, Allegheny and Braniff.

Court Declares

Wiretap Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today declared illegal the government's wiretapping of suspected domestic "subversives" without a warrant.

Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr., speaking for the court, said the wiretapping without judicial permission is unconstitutional as well as unauthorized by the 1968 Safe Streets Act.

The former Richmond lawyer, appointed to the court by President Nixon, said: "The danger to political dissent is acute where the government attempts to act under so vague a concept as the power to protect 'domestic security'." He added:

"The price of lawful public dissent must not be a dread of subjection to an unchecked surveillance power. Nor must the fear of unauthorized official eavesdropping deter vigorous citizen dissent and discussion of government action in private conversation. For private dissent, no less than open public discourse, is essential to our free society."

The Nixon administration and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell maintained both the Fourth Amendment and the 1968 federal law permit eavesdropping without warrants against individuals or groups that the Justice Department concludes may pose a danger to national security.

Both contentions were slapped down by Powell in an opinion which Justices Powell's decision something less than full support.

The case involved government wiretapping of Lawrence Plamundon, a White Panther accused of bombing a Central Intelligence Agency office at Ann Arbor, Mich. Federal District Court Judge Damon Keith of Detroit rejected the government's position and ordered transcripts of the wiretaps turned over to Plamundon's lawyers. The government appealed to the U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati, lost there in April 1971, and then appealed to the Supreme Court.

Powell, Blackmun and Burger are all appointees of the Nixon administration.

Lab Report Shows

Fish Kill Due To No Oxygen

PORTAGEVILLE — A kill of 8,800 pounds of channel catfish on May 24 in the River Road Fish Lake, east on Highway 162 and owned by Shirrell Smith, apparently resulted from lack of oxygen, according to a laboratory report from the Missouri Department of Conservation received by New Madrid conservation agent Bob Henrickson.

The report from tests at Jefferson City stated no evidence of toxic materials was found in water samples taken from the three-acre lake. Aquatic organisms present along the shoreline in shallow water were types which withstand low-dissolved oxygen levels.

The dead fish did not indicate evidence of organic phospate insecticide poisoning.

Smith said today he will not reopen the lake this year but will restock and open early next spring after the lake is drained and modified to provide two lakes separated by a levee and equipped with sufficient aeration equipment.

Smith said fish caught from the lake were not contaminated in anyway and were safe to eat.

Car Hits House And 2 Planes

A car slammed into a house at 161 Presnell Dr. at 7 p.m. Saturday, knocking a hole in the garage wall and heavily damaging two airplanes parked inside.

Larry Hornback, who was standing in the garage when the car came through, said he didn't have an estimate this morning on how much damage was done, but he said it was substantial. He is the owner of the home and aircraft.

Both airplanes were heavily damaged. One was a 1927 antique Travel Aire and the other was a homemade plane that Hornback has been working on for the past two years.

The driver of the car, Paul Forrest of 1515 Matthews Ave., told police he swerved to avoid a child on a bicycle and lost control of his car while he was traveling north on Missouri Street. The car passed through a narrow opening between a utility pole and a hedge en route to the house without striking either.

Man Charged In Drug Store Theft Here

Marvin Baker, 911 West North St., has been charged with petit larceny after he allegedly attempted to steal a package of cigarettes from Osco Drugs in Kingsway Plaza Mall.

Baker was seen taking the cigarettes from the store without paying for them and was stopped outside the store by Lee Hodges, an employe. Baker pushed Hodges away from him and ran. He was chased by employes out of the building.

The employes and police caught him in a field behind the mall. The cigarettes were found in a ditch nearby.

Other arrests over the weekend included: Argel Kellett, 908 Moore, public intoxication. James L. Cox, 122 South St., public intoxication. James Kenneth Elkins, 400 S. Main, public intoxication.

Housing Officials To Tulsa

Billy C. Hanna, executive director, and Richard James, commissioner of Sikeston Housing Authority, attended the annual southwest regional conference of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials in Tulsa, Okla., last week.

The conference was attended by representatives of housing authorities and urban renewal authorities from Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado. Also attending were officials from the department of Housing and Urban Development in Washington D.C. and regional offices.

The group was advised of current changes in the laws and the effects they will have in government programs.

Two Fires In Charleston

South Vietnamese Find Going Tough

SAIGON (AP) — Two South Vetnamese drives had hard going today despite President Nguyen Van Thieu's claims that North Vietnam's troops were demoralized and bogged down and their offensive had failed.

In the air war, the U.S. Air Force said its jets wrecked a large segment of North Vietnam's air defense system, knocking out more than 200 pieces of equipment in four days in the southern half of North Vietnam. And the United States ended a four-day suspension of bombing attacks in the Hanoi-Haiphong area following the departure of Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny from the North Vietnamese capital.

Thieu said he was ordering a new three-month campaign to take back the territory lost to the North Vietnamese in their offensive that began March 30. Nearly 3,000 marines launched a new sweep south of the demilitarized zone, while rangers supported by tanks opened a new push to clear Highway 13 between Saigon and An Loc.

The ranger drive fell apart almost immediately under a barrage of North Vietnamese shell fire 10 miles south of An Loc. A senior U.S. adviser was killed, and many of the rangers were wounded. The column, which had just gotten orders to move, pulled back.

Sikeston Man Held In Cairo

CAIRO — Cairo police are holding a man wanted by Sikeston, Mo., authorities for cashing a series of bogus checks.

The man, using the name Jack Eugene Davis, cashed more than $500 worth of checks drawn on Bank of Augusta, Ark., and First National Bank of Searcy, Ark.

Davis wrote three checks to Dunn Hotel totaling $165, one to Missouri State Opitcal Co. for $38, one to Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. for $75 and one to Yanson Jewelery for $284. He also wrote one for an undisclosed amount to Britts department store.

Sikeston police notified Cairo after learning he was there. Police say they have recovered some of the goods purchased with the bogus checks.

Car Burns At Marston

MARSTON — A 1967 Ford driven by Roberta Woods, 1522 Ogden in St. Louis, was destroyed by fire at 5 p.m. Sunday one-half mile south of the Marston interchange on Interstate 55.

Portageville fireman L. C. Keith said the fire occurred when the right front tire blew out and fire spread to the remainder of the car.

Keith said the car was engulfed by flames by the time the department arrived.

No one was injured.

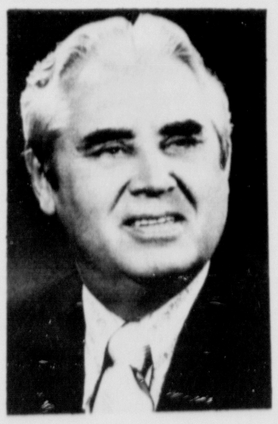
Sheriff Dennis To Seek Re-election



John Dennis

Scott County Sheriff John Dennis formally announces his campaign for re-election.

Dennis states that he feels his experience and familiarity with the problems involved, as well as his personal acquaintance with practically everybody in the county, gives him a deep insight into crimes as it involves Scott County.

Dennis has been recognized by the National Sheriff Association as one of the outstanding sheriffs in the United States when he was selected by that organization to attend the National Conference on jails at Denver, Colo., and to attend the Honor Society of the New York Police Department. He has been given a life membership in that organization.

Dennis has also served as president of the Missouri Peace Officers Association with a lifetime membership. He has also served as President of the Missouri Sheriffs Association and president of the Southeast Missouri Law Enforcement Association as well as having been an active worker with youth organizations throughout the years.

In 1964 Dennis was recognized by the Missouri Sheriffs Association as being the outstanding Sheriff in the State of Missouri.

Dennis pledges, if re-elected, he will continue to devote his entire time and efforts to the duties of the office, giving his personal attention to the daily problems faced by the sheriff's office, as he has always done. It is on this basis that he solicits the support of all Scott County voters.

Dennis has lived in Scott County all of his adult life. He and Mrs. Dennis have three married daughters, all of whom reside in Scott County. Dennis spent six years in the Armed Forces and served as a Marine in the Southwest Pacific area during World War II.

Immunization Laws Have Been Revised

Scott County Health Department advises parents of pre-school children that school immunization laws have been revised to include immunization against rubeola or measles and rubella or three-day measles.

Others required are polio, diphtheria and smallpox. Tetanus and pertussis may be included in the faccine.

Parents should see that their children have the required immunizations before the beginning of the new school year.

Charity Show To Aid Area Retarded

Sikeston Horseman's Club will sponsor a charity horse show Saturday at 8 p.m. in its arena on Route H two miles north of Ramada Inn. Proceeds from the 20-class show will be donated to the Mental Retardation Center and Regional Diagnostic Clinic.

Harold Smith, president of the club, said the show is a trial run for an annual charity horse show.

There will be classes for all age riders, including gaited pleasure.

Nor must the fear of unauthorized official eavesdropping deter vigorous citizen dissent and discussion of government action in private conversation. For private dissent, no less than open public discourse, is essential to our free society."

The Nixon administration and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell maintained both the Fourth Amendment and the 1968 federal law permit eavesdropping without warrants against individuals or groups that the Justice Department concludes may pose a danger to national security.

Both contentions were slapped down by Powell in an opinion which Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Potter Stewart, Thurgood Marshall and Harry A. Blackmun fully supported.

Justice Byron R. White said the wiretapping was impermissible under the 1968 law while Chief Justice Warren E. Burger simply said he concurred in the result. Justice William H. Rehnquist, who as assistant attorney general helped prepare the government's legal position, did not participate in the case.

Thus the vote against the government was 8 to 0, with Burger and White giving Powell's decision something less than full support.

The case involved government wiretapping of Lawrence Plamundon, a White Panther accused of bombing a Central Intelligence Agency office at Ann Arbor, Mich. Federal District Court Judge Damon Keith of Detroit rejected the government's position and ordered transcripts of the wiretaps turned over to Plamundon's lawyers. The government appealed to the U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati, lost there in April 1971, and then appealed to the Supreme Court.

Powell, Blackmun and Burger are all appointees of the Nixon administration.

Lab Report Shows

Fish Kill Due To No Oxygen

PORTAGEVILLE — A kill of 8,800 pounds of channel catfish on May 24 in the River Road Fish Lake, east on Highway 162 and owned by Shirrell Smith, apparently resulted from lack of oxygen, according to a laboratory report from the Missouri Department of Conservation received by New Madrid conservation agent Bob Henrickson.

The report from tests at Jefferson City stated no evidence of toxic materials was found in water samples taken from the three-acre lake. Aquatic organisms present along the shoreline in shallow water were types which withstand low-dissolved oxygen levels.

The dead fish did not indicate evidence of organic phospate insecticide poisoning.

Smith said today he will not reopen the lake this year but will restock and open early next spring after the lake is drained and modified to provide two lakes separated by a levee and equipped with sufficient aeration equipment.

Smith said fish caught from the lake were not contaminated in anyway and were safe to eat.

Car Hits House And 2 Planes

A car slammed into a house at 161 Presnell Dr. at 7 p.m. Saturday, knocking a hole in the garage wall and heavily damaging two airplanes parked inside.

Larry Hornback, who was standing in the garage when the car came through, said he didn't have an estimate this morning on how much damage was done, but he said it was substantial. He is the owner of the home and aircraft.

Both airplanes were heavily damaged. One was a 1927 antique Travel Aire and the other was a homemade plane that Hornback has been working on for the past two years.

The driver of the car, Paul Forrest of 1515 Matthews Ave., told police he swerved to avoid a child on a bicycle and lost control of his car while he was traveling north on Missouri Street. The car passed through a narrow opening between a utility pole and a hedge en route to the house without striking either.

Forrest was treated for head and scalp injuries and released from Missouri Delta Community Hospital. He was arrested for careless and imprudent driving.

In another accident, Billy Boshears, Jr., 18, of 103 Selma St. was injured at 10:52 p.m. Sunday after he lost control of his car on Broadway Avenue.

The car traveled 170 feet and hit four shrubs and a utility pole. Boshears was treated at Missouri Delta Community Hospital for a concussion and neck injuries.

Rapid Reading Course Begins Here Tonight

A rapid reading and comprehension short course will begin tonight in the community room of Production Credit Association at 240 North Kingshighway.

The class, sponsored by the University of Missouri Extension Service, will be held from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. weekly for eight weeks. Cost of the course will be $35, including textbook.

Another class began at 2 p.m. today in the Delta Center Auditorium at Portageville.

Both classes will accept "walk-ins" up to 40 persons.

Two Sikeston Guardsmen To Be Honored

Two Missouri National Guardsmen from Sikeston, Sgt. 1st Class Kenneth L. Bodine and Sgt. 1st Class Byron W. Caldwell, will be among 19 who will receive special recognition Friday during ceremonies at Camp Clark near Nevada, Mo.

They arrived at Camp Clark Sunday.

Col. James R. Crites, commanding officer of the 135th Engineer Group, said eight officers and 11 senior non-commissioned officers will receive recognition of perfect attendence at annual training missions since 1948.

Man Charged In Drug Store Theft Here

Marvin Baker, 911 West North St., has been charged with petit larceny after he allegedly attempted to steal a package of cigarettes from Osco Drugs in Kingsway Plaza Mall.

Baker was seen taking the cigarettes from the store without paying for them and was stopped outside the store by Lee Hodges, an employe. Baker pushed Hodges away from him and ran. He was chased by employes out of the building.

The employes and police caught him in a field behind the mall. The cigarettes were found in a ditch nearby.

Other arrests over the weekend included: Argel Kellett, 908 Moore, public intoxication. James L. Cox, 122 South St., public intoxication. James Kenneth Elkins, 400 S. Main, public intoxication.

Amon S. Ashcraft, 230 E. Kathleen, careless and imprudent driving and no city sticker. Wendul Hagler, Route Two, peace disturbance. Richardson Copeland, 621 Daniel, assault and battery.

Allen Louis Howard, 1408 Osage, speeding. Gerald Jerome Burnett, 302 Bynum, careless and imprudent driving. Gene Cole, 114 Sunset, petit larceny. Roosevelt Smith, 226 N. Kingshighway, destruction of private property. Guy Wright Smith, 724 Smith, driving while intoxicated.

Housing Officials To Tulsa

Billy C. Hanna, executive director, and Richard James, commissioner of Sikeston Housing Authority, attended the annual southwest regional conference of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials in Tulsa, Okla., last week.

The conference was attended by representatives of housing authorities and urban renewal authorities from Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado. Also attending were officials from the department of Housing and Urban Development in Washington D.C. and regional offices.

The group was advised of current changes in the laws and the effects they will have in government programs.

Two Fires In Charleston

CHARLESTON — Two calls were answered by the fire department over the weekend.

At 8 p.m. Saturday a vacant tenant house on the Harvey Drake farm near the south city limits was damaged by fire of unknown origin.

The second call at 6:30 p.m. Sunday sent the department to Lee Avenue where residents were afraid a natural gas installation was threatened by wheat stubble being burned in a nearby field. No damage was done.

Cycle Mishap Injures Two

WYATT — Two people were injured when their motorcycle overturned at 12:05 p.m. Sunday one-quarter mile east of Wyatt on an unmarked county road.

Gary Vinson, 23, of Wyatt received cuts and bruises and his nephew, Timmy Vinson, 5, of Wyatt, received a cut lip and cuts and bruises.

According to the highway patrol they hit a ridge in the road and were thrown from the cycle.

Car Burns At Marston

MARSTON — A 1967 Ford driven by Roberta Woods, 1522 Ogden in St. Louis, was destroyed by fire at 5 p.m. Sunday one-half mile south of the Marston interchange on Interstate 55.

Portageville fireman L. C. Keith said the fire occurred when the right front tire blew out and fire spread to the remainder of the car.

Keith said the car was engulfed by flames by the time the department arrived.

No one was injured.

South Vietnamese Find Going Tough

SAIGON (AP) — Two South Vetnamese drives had hard going today despite President Nguyen Van Thieu's claims that North Vietnam's troops were demoralized and bogged down and their offensive had failed.

In the air war, the U.S. Air Force said its jets wrecked a large segment of North Vietnam's air defense system, knocking out more than 200 pieces of equipment in four days in the southern half of North Vietnam. And the United States ended a four-day suspension of bombingl attacks in the Hanoi-Haiphong area following the departure of Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny from the North Vietnamese capital.

Thieu said he was ordering a new three-month campaign to take back the territory lost to the North Vietnamese in their offensive that began March 30. Nearly 3,000 marines launched a new sweep south of the demilitarized zone, while rangers supported by tanks opened a new push to clear Highway 13 between Saigon and An Loc.

The ranger drive fell apart almost immediately under a barrage of North Vietnamese shell fire 10 miles south of An Loc. A senior U.S. adviser was killed, and many of the rangers were wounded. The column, which had just gotten orders to move, pulled back.

Sikeston Man Held In Cairo

CAIRO — Cairo police are holding a man wanted by Sikeston, Mo., authorities for cashing a series of bogus checks.

The man, using the name Jack Eugene Davis, cashed more than $500 worth of checks drawn on Bank of Augusta, Ark., and First National Bank of Searcy, Ark.

Davis wrote three checks to Dunn Hotel totaling $165, one to Missouri State Opitcal Co. for $38, one to Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. for $75 and one to Yanson Jewelery for $284. He also wrote one for an undisclosed amount to Britts department store.

Sikeston police notified Cairo after learning he was there. Police say they have recovered some of the goods purchased with the bogus checks.

Sheriff Dennis To Seek Re-election

Scott County Sheriff John Dennis formally announces his campaign for re-election.

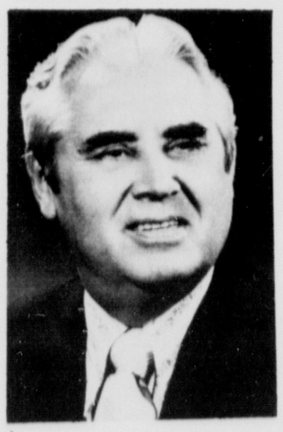
Dennis states that he feels his experience and familiarity with the problems involved, as well as his personal acquaintance with practically everybody in the county, gives him a deep insight into crimes as it involves Scott County.

Dennis has been recognized by the National Sheriff Association as one of the outstanding sheriffs in the United States when he was selected by that organization to attend the National Conference on jails at Denver, Colo., and to attend the Honor Society of the New York Police Department. He has been given a life membership in that organization.

Dennis has also served as president of the Missouri Peace Officers Association with a lifetime membership. He has also served as President of the Missouri Sheriffs Association and president of the Southeast Missouri Law Enforcement Association as well as having been an active worker with youth organizations throughout the years.

In 1964 Dennis was recognized by the Missouri Sheriffs Association as being the outstanding Sheriff in the State of Missouri.

Dennis pledges, if re-elected, he will continue to devote his entire time and efforts to the duties of the office, giving his personal attention to the daily problems faced by the sheriff's office, as he has always done. It is on this basis that he solicits the support of all Scott County voters.



John Dennis

Dennis has lived in Scott County all of his adult life. He and Mrs. Dennis have three married daughters, all of whom reside in Scott County. Dennis spent six years in the Armed Forces and served as a Marine in the Southwest Pacific area during World War II.

Immunization Laws Have Been Revised

Scott County Health Department advises parents of pre-school children that school immunization laws have been revised to include immunization against rubeola or measles and rubella or three-day measles.

Others required are polio, diphtheria and smallpox. Tetanus and pertussis may be included in the faccine.

Parents should see that their children have the required immunizations before the beginning of the new school year.

Charity Show To Aid Area Retarded

Sikeston Horseman's Club will sponsor a charity horse show Saturday at 8 p.m. in its arena on Route H two miles north of Ramada Inn. Proceeds from the 20-class show will be donated to the Mental Retardation Center and Regional Diagnostic Clinic.

Harold Smith, president of the club, said the show is a trial run for an annual charity horse show.

There will be classes for all age riders, including gaited pleasure.

Firemen Check Wheat Fire

Firemen were called to contain a fire in a wheat field at 6:55 p.m. Sunday behind Propst Mobile Home lot on East Malone Avenue. Firemen were called to the scene when it appeared the fire might sweep into the mobile homes.

Police reports indicate the fire may have been started by some children who were seen in the field just before the fire broke out.

Fire Destroys Morley Home

MORLEY — A frame house on Caroline Street owned by R. C. Hagar and occupied by the Ray Hunter family was destroyed by fire Friday night while the Hunters were away.

Oran volunteer fire department answered the call at 10:30 p.m. but the home could not be saved. All of the family's belongings were burned.

State Senator J. F. Patterson of Caruthersville has withdrawn as a candidate for re-election, and with that decision Missouri has lost an unusual fiscal conservative. Senator Tinnon is my good friend too and I only hope that he can get up to the position someday that Senator Patterson has occupied. When he was in charge of the appropriations he saved Mt. Vernon for me two or three times and not that he has gotten so busy, and I don't blame him for not wanting to make a race out of it, because it is a lot of work, but he is a fine man and after he is no longer in the Senate Southeast Missourians are going to miss him very bad and they may think that the Supreme Court or whatever it was that divided the new districts did a good job, but I think not, if you want my opinion.

LINCOLN'S WORDS
RING TRUE

Spoken during another terrible war, the words of Abraham Lincoln ring just as true todya. This is what he said during the Civil war:

"It is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling Power of God; to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon; and to recognize the sublime Truth announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that these nations only are blessed.

"And inasmuch as we know that by His Divine Law, nations, like individuals, are subjected to punishments and chastisements in this world, may we not justly fear that the awful calamity of Civil War which now desolates the land may be but a punishment inflicted upon us for our presumptuous sins, to the needful end of our national reformation as a whole people?

"We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of Heaven. We have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity. We have grown in numbers, wealth and power as no other nation has ever grown; but we have forgotten God.

"We have forgotten the Gracious Hand that preserved us in peace, and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us; and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts that all these blessings were produced by some superior virtue and wisdom of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving Grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us.

"It behooves us then, to humble ourselves before the offended Power, to confess our national sins, and to pray for clemency and forgiveness."

A NEW VIEWPOINT
ON EMPLOYMENT

At a time of high unemployment, the level of absenteeism and turnover in the automotive industry is the highest in history.

"This is contrary to every economic expectation and is typical of new attitudes which will require the humanizing of work and of organizations," says Prof. Louis Davis of the University of California.

Davis has launched a major project, underwritten by a $160,000 Ford Foundation grant, to study ways of improving the quality of working life in the United States.

Examining the same evidence, a management consultant has come up with the similar diagnosis.

"Never before has the American worker been so important to the nation's economy as right now," says Roy W. Walters. "But in the present business environment, with its emphasis on productivity at all costs, we may be losing sight of our human resources."

Yet another management consultant, citing the nation's failure to create a full employment economy compatible with stable prices, suggests we need a fundamental re-evlauation of our traditional concepts of free enterprise capitalism.

Before World War I, when much of the economy was in the hands of the self-employed and small family enterprises, we enjoyed virtually full employment and stable prices, writes William McDonald Wallace in an article in the Wall Street Journal.

But as big business rose to dominate the economy, it made a tragic mistake in its approach to labor, he says. It oped for a bureaucratic social order in response to the classical economists' assumptions about "economic man."

This "economic man" is a different species from the social animal we know as man. Belongingness, esprit de corps and comaraderie are emotions and motivations unknown to him. He sells his services impersonally to the highest bidder and moves on without regret in response to a higher offer.

Equally without regret, the buyer-employer lays him off in response to changes in market demand.

To put it another way, business bureaucracy pays the job and not the man, regarding its employes as impersonal sellers of labor services who must compete with each other for "better jobs."

Consider, by contrast, the spectacularly successful Japanese economy, says Walters.

The idea of "economic man" makes no sense at all to the Japanese. Trying to make people conform to an economist's abstract model of the economy is to them a product of the inscrutable Occidental mind.

In the Japanese view, corporations, depend on teamwork rather than individual effort, and since esprit de corps and camaraderie improve teamwork while satisfying deeply felt human needs, why not take advantage of this fact?

The Japanese have created a system of lifetime employment tenure. They pay the man, not the job, and pay him a flexible wage related to corporate performance.

Thus the Japanese can adjust to a business slump while maintaining stable employment. Whatever the vagaries of the business cycle, the individual employe in Japan looks forward to promotion and hence better pay until he retires.

"The famed loyalty and dedication of Japanese employes does not reflect the mysteries of their upbringing so much as the pragmatic policies of their employes," says Walters.

"Nor does the erosion of the work ethic in America reflect some mysterious greening process. Rather it reflects the poisonous effect of bureaucracy on teamwork."

REASONS WHY MISSOURIANS
WILL NOT SIGN PETITIONS
TO RAID ROAD FUNDS

1. Signing for the proposed transit bonds constitutional amendment would be "signing away" our highway improvement program for the long run.

2. $225 million of road taxes would be diverted to urban rapid transit, airports and transit lines if enough voters sign the initiative petitions, and later, support the amendment, if it should get on the ballot.

3. It is unfair to tax one mode of transportation (highways) for the benefit of competing modes.

4. It would be like taxing restaurants to subsidize cafeterias, or taxing motels to keep hotels in business.

5. It is unfair to tax only one element of the population (highway users) for general purpose facilities (air terminals and transit lines).

6. Where mass transit and airports are needed in the larger cities they are usually financed from general taxes. Also, there are new Federal-aid funds for both mass transit and aviation.

7. It is unfair to tax rural and small-town Missourians to assist St. Louis and Kansas City. Agriculture, the resort and tourist business and all the county seat towns will receive little benefit.

8. City transit should be financed by its beneficiaries, like highways are financed by the users, or by general revenues from the metropolitan areas.

9. This proposition is based on an unfair principle of taxation. The number of miles a man must drive, or the horsepower of his car, should not be measures of his responsibility for rapid transit or airports.

10. The proposed road fund raid amendment contains several other issues which should be dealt with separately. The proposed $730 million transportation bond issue will not be needed for highways because the Legislature recently passed a 2 cent per gallon gasoline tax increase. Interest and debt service on the bonds will total $1,204,500,000 through the year 2007 -- more than the original issue.

11. Motor fuel taxes and motor vehicle fees are special use taxes imposed for the sole purpose of building and administering highways. They are "tolls" for the use of the highways. Their use for transit and airports would be a violation of their basic purpose.

12. Deficienceis in the Missouri highway and street program exist in virtually every area in the State. Any diversion of road taxes for non-highway purposes will curtail highway improvement plans.

13. Missourians have voted four times for constitutional protection of highway funds in 1928, 1945, 1962, and 1970. Road funds are similarly safeguarded from diversion in the constitutions of 28 states. Several other states allocate all road taxes for roads by statue.

14. Motor vehicle owners are now very heavily taxed. They provide the entire cost of the State highway and freeway systems without subsidy. Also they support the Missouri Highway Department, State Highway Patrol, the Motor Vehicle and Driver License Divisions, and make substantial allocations to several other State government departments. There is no ethical reason why they should now be asked to support additional, local, non-highway functions.

ARE TRADING STAMPS
HERE TO STAY?

Contrary to what the critics of trading stamps say, a recent survey showed that more than three out of four households in the nation save and redeem trading stamps. The Ideabook catalog taken home by housewives, now supplemented by a new "Luxury Gifts" catalog in 800 redemption centers, contains more than 2,400 items from about 850 manufacturers. Selection ranges from a bon bon dish to a Chris Craft Power cruiser. About 30,000,000 Ideabooks go into the homes of stamp savers each year. They are packed in 280,000 cartons made from 101 tons of recycled paper and distributed through 70,000 merchants across the country.

DEMOCRACY OR MOB RULE?

Democracy has a well-recognized weakness to be constantly guarded against -- that is the danger on mob rule. This ever-present danger is the reason for the division of governmental powers embodied in the U. S. constitutional system by the founding fathers. The need for division of power and the checks and balances it imposes on the governing process becomes greater and more apparent with each passing year as modern means of communication arouse emotional reactions among the populous on a massive scale.

Many firearm control measures have been proposed during recent months. The manner in which private citizens, who do not go along with the supposed popular sentiment have been abused for their views is nearly unparalleled. For example, The National Rifle Association, representing private citizen gun owners, was one victim. The Association's primary function is educational. The dues of its members are utilized for setting up and running, both national and international competitive shooting events and thousands of training and safety programs for both sportsmen and police forces. Much of its effort is directed toward conservation and environmental improvement. Yet, as a Congressman from Florida comments, "This organization last year was subjected to one of the most prolonged, vicious and intense indictments by the press and by some elected officials that I have ever seen..."

The NRA became the target of extreme antigun campaigns simply because its officials and its members expressed their beliefs forcefully on an issue they believe involves a threat to our basic liberties. Their actions have illustrated the contrast between responsible self-government and stampeding emotionalism. By tradition and by law, the right of gun ownership in the U. S. is nearly as fundamental as the right to vote.

WHAT IT TAKES TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS IN TEN STEPS

The ten timeless tips for business success (and as an agent or general agent you are in business) recommended by the well known business success, B. C. Forbes are:

1. Put success before amusement.
2. Learn something every day.
3. Cut free from routine.
4. Concentrate on profits
5. Make your services known.
6. Never worry over trifles.
7. Shape your decisions quickly.
8. Acquire skill and technique.
9. Deserve loyalty and cooperation.
10. Value character above all.

FOUR—SQUARE
ON ALL FOURS

There is a rumor, facetious no doubt, that Ralph Nader has a secret report which declares the human foot is unsafe to walk upon. This is not particularly funny to those who believe that a great many human ills can be traced to walking on two feet instead of four like other animals. Our four-footed friends are much more stable dynamically than those who stand erect. And anyone who has crawled around the floor looking for a dropped contact lens must have become aware of the advantages of quadrupedal travel. A reversion to four-footed locomotion would have some disadvantages, but would be an economic boost to the shoe business, for example, and would present clothing stylists with unique opportunities. The idea ought to be thoroughly discussed in Washington at the highest official level (about two and a half feet) and action, if indicated, taken as soon as Congress creeps back after New Year's.——Post-Dispatch.

ASSAULTS ON POLICEME

Chief Frank Dyson of Dall has come up with an idea stop assaults on officers of t law and the Texas Legislatu likely will hear this plan soo Stunned by the murder three of his men in the la seven months, the chief fe that an attack on an offic ought to carry the dea penalty if the guilty person h intentions of killing. Under h plan, capital punishment woul be the maximum in such cas and a 10-year prison sentenc the minimum.

Law-Aid, the program t assist police and sheriff departments, would like to s stringent laws in all states. T gunning down of policem has become all commonplace. An outra citizenry can get tou legislation passed if it insis with vehemence tha something be done to protec the guardians of the law. Th murder rate is climbing in thi country and observers of our legal system believe that it can be attributed at least in part, t the staying of capital punishment by the Supreme Court. That body still has not made a final determination on cases that are on appeal.

Officers of the law constitute our first line of defense. They protect our homes and our persons. They are now getting the respect and assistance they need to carry on the fight. Talk to any officer in your hometown and he will tell you the same thing. Routine traffic arrests have become a deadly game. The officer never knows when he will be shot even during these minor pursuits of his job of law enforcement.

Law-Aid urges your assistance in the field of law enforcement. The policeman must have the support of his community if he is to do his job of protecting lives and property.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Inside Story: Republican Labor Chiefs Want Nixon To Dump Agnew for Rockefeller

WASHINGTON — A campaign in this political season to win the Vice Presidential nomination for an undeclared non-running "candidate" is as rare as a stork at an old age home. Yet it's building up behind Nelson A Rockefeller. There are strong forces who want to bump Vice President Spiro Agnew with the New York Governor.

There are influential forces upon which Republican tacticians now depend for much of their Northern strategy. These forces are a network of labor leaders who are the traditional establishment throughout much of the Northeast. Private talks with many of them, and with at least one powerful national labor chief now a White House intimate, disclose they want the New York Governor in Washington circa 1973 so he can logically reach for the Presidential nomination come 1976.

These men, politically, fraternally and socially close to the Governor for over a decade, are convinced "Rocky" is determined to take "one more crack" at the Presidency.

It was all summed up by the Number One Hard Hat, Peter Brennan, leader of the New York Building and Construction Trades Council, at the swinging dinner party thrown by the Governor and Happy Rockefeller at their Pocantico Hills estate June 12.

"I have always felt badly the Governor never made President," Brennan, who is also close to Richard Nixon, said a serious moment after a songfest. "You're the greatest and we are with you 100 per cent."

Much applause from other labor chiefs and their ladies. There's unseen significance here. These men who socialized with Nelson Rockefeller that night are sophisticates who needn't be told when to politicalize.They are the infrastructure of the Republican Labor Task Force created by John Mitchell's Committee For the Reelection of the President.

These union men have lent - literally and figuratively -- one of their sons to the Committee as a labor coordinator. He's Bernard DeLury, virtually unknown because he is the essence of self-effacement, son of Nelson Rockefeller's politically powerful ally, the New York Sanitation men's union chief, John DeLury.

These men and scores of their colleagues will try their own political strength on for size late in the week of June 19. With them will be those labor chiefs who have decided to break early with their Democratic party union brethern. They will not take Sen. McGovern.They reckon the Democratic Party will be split -- perhaps splintered -- whether or not McGovern is nominated and certainly should he win the Presidency.

So the Republican labor leaders will gather next Wednesday or Thursday on the top floor of the Capitol Hill Club here. They'll try to carve labor planks for the Republican Platform Committee which will meet Aug. 14 to 16.

Anywhere from 50 to 300 union leaders are expected to stand up and be counted at the Capital Hill Club sessions.

This is a long way in time, sound and fury since the lonely 1968 GOP labor platform hearings. Then AFL-CIO chief George Meany presented the federation's bulky suggestions and left.That was it. But several score labor leaders constitute more than a presentation. They are a demonstration.

They represent over 5 million unionists. No one says they can deliver their votes. But they do lead them. And their open collaboration with the President's reelection committee will be a signal for a swing to Richard Nixon.

But this legion is not for Sprio Agnew. He has not tried to woo them -- not even those who once were his legal clients in Maryland and who backed him in a gubernatorial race. Now these labor men want "Rocky" who, it appears from inside reports, also has Teamsters General President Frank "Fitz" Fitzsimmons with him. No one is telling the President what to do. But neither are they concealing their sentiments.

And according to one who should be described as higher than the usual White House "source," neither is the President hiding his feelings.

"There was a feeling over in that Oval Room not too long ago that it would not take very much for the Vice President himself to bug out," says this insider. "Up until early March Agnew appeared to be suffering from vice president-itis. I got the feeling he couldn't care less whether he was on the ticket.

"This coincided with (John) Connally's getting hot. Peaking. Then it seemed to some of us that the President deliberately peaked Connally because he (Mr. Nixon) was piqued with the Vice President.

"Nixon wanted to stimulate the Vice President to become a lot more active, to assert himself, to make a fight for it. There's no sign now that the President is unhappy with Ted Agnew."

But the labor leaders are. Gov. Rockefeller has delivered to them for over 14 years and now they want to deliver to him.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON: -- Some of the nation's most prestigious banks and insurance companies have been putting up money for shady mortgages.

Such eminent institutions as Chase Manhattan, Manufacturers Hanover, Metropolitan Life and Prudential Insurance are helping to finance a mortgage racket, which is blighting our cities and defrauding ghetto dwellers.

In Boston, Detroit, Philadelphia, New Orleans, New York City, St. Louis and Southern California, pressed and pomaded bankers are up to their boutonnieres in FHA mortgage scandals. The cost to the taxpayers runs into the billions (B).

Part of the story will unfold this week before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee. Bearded, bemused chairman Phil Hart, D-Mich., always fair to a fault, will take testimony from a host of financial tycoons, mortgage men and FHA officials.

As with most financial scandals, the details are complex, but the results have been stark. Here's the scenario:

Ghetto dwellers in search of accomodations go to fast-buck real estate operators with a ready supply of rundown houses for sale. "Why rent?" urge the salesmen. "Why not buy?"

With a sucker on the hook, the real estate dealers call in unscrupulous mortgage companies to arrange the financing. By bribing FHA appraisers and falsifying credit ratings, these companies have been able to obtain FHA loans far above the value of the houses.

SHORT STAY

The proud new home owners usually can't afford the huge payments they have been hornswoggled into contracting. Often, the houses are in such disrepair that they break down, and the new owners can't afford to fix them.

Result: the FHA mortgage is foreclosed and the helpless purchasers are back in the street.

After the eviction, the scavengers move in and strip the houses of everything that can be carted off. In many inner cities, whole neighborhoods look like bombed-out sections of Berlin after World War II.

This doesn't bother the mortgage companies or the banks behind them. They are paid off by the FHA at face value. It's the taxpayers who are stuck with houses that are unsaleable or, at best, worth nowhere near their FHA mortgages.

The big banks and insurance companies enter the deal through the back door. Mortgage companies, you see, are always short of cash and go to the banks for loans.

For instance, New York City's biggest mortgage company, Eastern Service Corporation, now under indictment for fraud in connection with its mortgages, called upon Chase Manhattan, the aristocrat of the banking world.

Chase Manhattan cheerfully granted the mortgage firm a line of credit for more than $20 million and even bought up some of Eastern Service's dubious mortgages. There was no risk for the big bank. The mortgages were backed up by the FHA, and Eastern Service, in the meantime, paid high interest rates.

UNDER THE ROCK

Prudential Insurance, which urges its customers to own "a piece of the Rock," doesn't mention the sordid ghetto mortgages in its advertising. But if the customers will look under "the Rock," they will find about $14 million worth of mortgages purchased from Eastern Service.

As evidence that Prudential was suspicious of these ghetto mortgages, it is permitted under the deal to sell back to Eastern Service any mortgages that fall into arrears.

Metropolitan Life, apparently, was more a victim of naivete than of greed. It decided to put money into the inner city and asked Manufacturers Hanover to obtain some gnetto mortgages. The bank went to Eastern Service and other mortgage companies.

Many of these mortgages have now ended in foreclosure and the houses have been abandoned to neighborhood vandals.

Spokesmen for Chase Manhattan, Prudential Insurance and the other respected financial institutions earnestly insist they were unaware they were doing business in shady mortgages.

Footnote: Several smaller banks have found failing, non-FHA mortgages on their books. They have peddled the bad mortgages through mortgage companies to unsavory speculators. The speculators managed to get FHA mortgages on disastrously rundown property, and then sold the government-backed mortgages back to the banks for a profit. Again, the taxpayers were stuck.

HIGHWAY INFILTRATOR

The Senate subcommittee on roads, now dealing with controversial matters affecting the Federal Highway Administration, has surprisingly taken on an employee of the administration to help with staff work.

The Highway Administration wants to keep the multibillion dollar highway trust fund intact for the benefit of the road builders, but the subcommittee insists that the new staff member is not an infiltrator. The interloper, Clyde Woodle, is a $12,000- year engineer-trainee at the Highway Adminstration. But his views run counter to the administration's head, Francis Turner, who is often accused of wanting to pave over America.

"If you think everyone shares the views of (Turner), you're wrong," Woodle said in a talk with us.

Committee counsel Barry Meyer admitted there were no environmentalists on the subcommittee to balance the recruit from the Federal Highway Administration. But Meyer said if an environmental group wanted to send over a qualified trainee, the subcommittee could use him.

Portageville Horse Show Shaping Up As One Of Largest

PORTAGEVILLE — Entries in the 15th annual Kiwanis Charity Horse Show are being received daily from outstate Missouri, the Bootheel and adjoining states of Arkansas, Illinois, Tennessee and Kentucky, according to J. D. Stafford, chairman.

Stafford said it appears the 11-class show Thursday at Reaves Athletic Field is shaping into one of the largest shows held.

Big River Appaloosa Horse Club is returning for the second year to present an exhibition with costumed riders.

An added attraction to the show is awarding an attendance prize of a pony named "Shinbone" in commemoration of the city's 100th anniversary. To further promote the centennial observance, period costumes will be worn by ribbon girls, Kiwanis members and wives and spectators.

A trophy, five place-money prizes and five ribbons will be awarded in each class. Classes are: two-year- old walking horses, English pleasure, juveniles on walking horses, fine harness ponies, three- year- old walking horses, three- gaited horses, ladies on walking horses, five- gaited horses, amateurs on walking horses, roadster to bike ponies, and walking horse stake.

Committee members announced by Stafford are: advertising, Erwin Lloyd and Cuz Moreland; barbecue stand, Dr. O. A. Huck, Jerry Pattillo, Charles Ladd, Francis James and Charles Lynn; clean- up, Louis Daugherty, Bill Brown and all Kiwanians; gate, Jim Stafford, Bud Sisson, Floyd Drew, Ray Smelser, Claude Foster and Harold Young;

Grounds, Preston Shaw; gym and open gates, G. Robert Williams; lighting, Howard Graham and Bob Gill; registration, Leonard Hand, Tom Brister, Faye Atwill and Hugh Woods; reserve seats, Garland Butler, Dwight Bryant and Ronnie Marler; refreshments, Bill Moore, Roy Moore, Delbert Edgar, Gary Baker and Jack Kriedler;

Ribbons, Mrs. Leonard Hand and Mrs. June Ransburgh; ring, J. D. Stafford; street decorations and signs, Evans Baker and Howard Graham; sweet shoppe, Mrs. Jim Stafford; and water tank, Louis Daugherty.

What's The Law?

The Case Of The Contested Abortion

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

Chester found abortions abhorrent. What's more, they were being performed practically right under his nose. Around the corner from where he lived was a hospital and in that hospital, he maintained, babies were being killed. So, he and several of his friends decided to do something about it. They appeared in court demanding that the hospital be ordered to stop performing abortions.

"Under the Constitution," they argued, "life is legally protected. And, if mothers won't protect their unborn children, then the courts should!"

"Chester's idea of life," was the answer, "is a misconception. The Constitution deals with people and not unborn children. Consequently, Chester's argument must be dismissed and his application for an order denied."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you send Chester home without his order?

This is how the judge ruled: YES!The judge held that there is no authority for the position that the Framers of the Constitution contemplated fetal life, or thought of unborn children, as persons to be protected under the Constitution.

Nor is there any reason to believe that Congress had a fetal life in mind when it drafted the Civil Rights Act. The protection to be afforded fetal life, concluded the judge, is a problem for the legislatures of the various states. They must decide the problems in the light of moral issues, the conflicting rights of the mother and child, the extent of medical knowledge and the interests of the state. Eight Die In State Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least eight persons died in Missouri traffic accidents over the weekend.

Two illinois women were killed in a three-vehicle crash on Interstate 70 in St. Charles County late Sunday afternoon. Authorities identified the victims as Cynthia Shirley, 21, of Casyville, Ill., and her mother, Catherine Curtis, 51, of Collinsville, Ill.

Earlier Sunday a 13-year-old Hale, Mo., girl, Victoria Ann McPheper, was killed when the farm tractor she was driving overturned.

Dannie LVee Johnson, 18, Stanberr, Mo., died early Sunday in a one-car accident on a county road northwest of King City.

Killed Saturday were:

Henry L. Thomas, 8, Springfield, when a motorcycle on which he was riding with his father collided with a car in that city.

Mae Clark, 71, Neodesha, Kan., when the car in which she was riding was struck by another car on Highway 171 south of Carl Junction.

James Phillips, 65, Dade City, Fla., in a one-car accident on U.S. 61 in Ste. Genevieve.

Mrs. Shirley Freeman, 29, Fort Hamilton, N.Y., in a onecar accident on Interstate 44 at the north edge of Springfield.

Farmers To Discuss Sunflowers

PORTAGEVILLE, — A meeting for farmers to learn about oilseed sunflowers as an additional cash crop will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Delta Research Center here.

Elmer G. Carlson, president of the Carlson Sunflower Co. of Audubon, Ia., will discuss oilseed and sunflowers as an answer to the cyst menatode problem which threatens soybeans in this area.

Carlson is a former world's cornhusking champion, having won that title several times in the days when corn was husked by hand.

Officials Attend Accounting Sessions

JEFFERSON CITY — Ten Scott county officials and deputies, along with those representing each of Missouri's 102 other third and fourth class counties, participated in informational sessions conducted recently by the state auditor's office.

Scott County participants were Tom Marshall and Barbara Naile of the collector's office, Verneta Martin of the county clerk's office, and Lynn F. Ingram, circuit clerk. Magistrate-probate office was represented by Josephine Klipfel. John J. Bollinger of the recorder's office, Sheriff John Dennis and Mary Tatum of the sheriff's office, Hess Porter, treasurer, Gene Nunnelee, coroner, and Thomas Gilmore, prosecuting attorney, also attended.

Seventy- six sessions were held during March through May to acquaint officials and their office personnel with new uniform accounting systems designed and developed for county officers by the state auditor's office.

The sessions were conducted by professional accountants and systems analysts and by representatives of certified public accounting firms.

This is the first time the state auditor's office has taken responsibility to provide accounting systems for county government.

Mr. and Mrs. David Ronald Brown

Brown-Hulshof

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Church of the Sacred Heart was the setting of the May 6 wedding of Miss Rosemary Hulshof, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Hulshof of Portageville, Mo., to David Ronald Brown, son of Mrs. Charles P. Brown and the late Mr. Brown of 352 Williford, Memphis.

Father Patrick Lynch, pastor of Sacred Heart, was the principal celebrant at a concelebrated mass. He was assisted by Father James McLean, also of Sacred Heart, Father Coleman Borgardt, chaplain of St. Joseph's Hospital, Father Tim Tighe of St. Patricks, all of Memphis; Father Marcus Voss of St. Bernard, Ala. and Father Amela Shibley of St. Eustachius, Portageville.

Servers of the mass were David Hulshof, Gordon Hulshof, Kenny Hulshof, all nephews of the bride, and Lanny Joe Brown, nephew of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown of silk organza and Alencon lace. The empire bodice was circled in lace and fashioned with a high neck edged in matching lace. The A-line skirt was appliqued with motifs of lace. The detachable train was chapel length. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was secured to a satin bow headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white daisies.

The bride chose as her only attendant, her sister, Mrs. Jane Marie Houston of Memphis, as matron of honor. She was attired in a light aqua blue empire linen with white embroidery insertions of bell sleeves, waist and skirt. She carried yellow daisies. A wreath of yellow daisies formed her head piece.

The groom chose Fausto Urrutia of Decatur, Ala., as best man.

Ushers included Francis Hulshof of Portageville, Joseph Hulshof of Oran, Paul Hulshof of Charleston and Vincent Hulshof of Benton, all brothers of the bride, and Lanny Brown of Memphis, the groom's brother.

Providing music eof the nuptial mass was Tom Holcomb, organist.

After the marriage rite, Father Tom Donohue sang, "We'll Walk WithGod."

Preceding communion, Mrs. Jean Paul List sang, "The Lord's Prayer". After communion, duets by Father Donohue and Mrs. List were "Panis Angelicus," "Eternal Life," "Sabbath Prayer" and "Blessed Are They Who Serve The Lord."

For her daughters's wedding, Mrs. Hulshof wore a shell pink knit with matching accessories. Mrs. Brown wore a pale blue coat dress with white accessories. Both wore white orchids.

A luncheon - reception followed the ceremony at Four Flames Restaurant. Tony Berrazzo provided organ music.

Attending from Portageville were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hulshof, Francis Hulshof and family, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Priggel, Mrs. Stella Hulshof, Mrs. Mary DeLisle, Mrs. ElienMilam, Miss Mary Louise DeLisle of Poplar Bluff, Miss Mary Emma Hulshof of Ste. Genevieve; from Oran, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hulshof and family; from Charleston, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hulshof and Kenny; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hulshof and family of Benton; Mrs. Sam L. Hedgepeth and children of New Madrid.

Guests from Memphis included Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Joan Farino and Lisa, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Brown and family, Lanny Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. David Morance, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Maquire, Miss Sara Keefe, David Milem, J. Ann Landers

Romeo Has Field Narrowed To Nine

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to say something to the 17-year-old guy who just discovered sex last year and is making it with 12 different girls. He can't understand why he is dead tired all the time and wants to know if it's "normal." His signature was "Dragging My Caboose."

I can tell you a thing or two about that lunatic because I was one of the 12. The reason I know he's the guy is because he was bragging all over school this morning that his letter made Ann Lander's column. The minute he made that statement, his count went down to 11.

I used to think you were a square, talking about virginity and the value of saving yourself for somebody decent, the high price of free love and how the girl always pays whether she realizes it at the time or not. You said the price is guilt and shame, a ruined reputation and finally no self respect.

You hit me right in the face with all of it, Ann, and I want to let you know I'm sorry I ridiculed you and I've learned my lesson. --- Slow Study

P. S. The envelope was sealed but I opened it to add this. Two other girls in my gym class just told me they were also among the 12. Now they want nothing more to do with him. This means his count is down to nine. If it keeps up he's going to get plenty of rest. Thanks, Ann. --- S. S.

Dear S.S.: Never mind about HIM, honey. Keep this column handy. Some lessons need to be learned more than once.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's brother, his wife and their two children moved a few doors from us last summer. They are a nice family and I know my sister-in-law would do anything in the world for me.

The problem is the way they talk. When Vera wants a favor she never says, "Will you please ..." It's always, "I want you to ..."

Yesterday her 12-year-old boy rang the doorbell and said, "Mom wants you to bring her a five pound sack of sugar when you go to the market today."

My husband was standing there and I asked him if he had noticed the rudemess. He said, "Yes, I did notice it -- but it doesn't bother me because I know they mean well." He said it would be better if I didn't mention it because it might cause strained relations.

What do you say, Ann? I admit it rankles me and I'm not so sure my husband is right. --- Like The Trimmings

Dear Trimmings: I'm not optimistic about the chances for retraining your sister-in-law, but I feel you should certainly say something to that 12- year-old kid Sample: "How about hooking a please onto that instead of just giving an order?"

Dear Ann Landers: Why would a person you've known for years walk right past you and not speak? This happened to me twice last week (same woman) and I am utterly baffled. This woman is not a close friend of mine but we are in the church auxiliary together and she is always pleasant and sociable at the meetings. Both times when she passed me by she was with another person. It occurred to me that maybe she feit I wasn't worth recognizing since my social status is somewhat beneath hers. Can you think of any other possibility? I feel --- Slighted And Hurt

Dear S and H: The other possibility is that she didn't see you. There are thousands, maybe millions of women who have poor vision and refuse to wear glasses. And some of these dames can't hear so well either. So if you said "hello" in a low voice, she may not have heard you.

Discover how to be date bait without falling, hook, line and sinker. Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," will help you be more poised and sure of yourself on dates. Send 35 cents in coin along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and your request to this newspaper.

Cole-Lashmet

Janet Sue Cole

BERTRAND — Mr. and Mrs. William Cole, Jr., Route One, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet Sue, to Robert Lashmet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lashmet of Sikeston.

Miss Cole is a 1971 graduate of Kelly High School and is an operator for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Sikeston.

Lashmet graduated from Sikeston High School in 1971 and is employed by Malco Theatres.

Wedding plans are incomplete.

SHS Students Making Fourth Quarter Honor Roll Announced

The following Sikeston High School students made the honor roll for the fourth quarter during the 1971-72 school year. The students are recognized for academic achievement in the ability level in which they are working.

Inclusion in the Honor Roll indicates excellence for the current school quarter and must not be confused with rank-in- class or grade point averages, which indicate total high school achievement to date.

It is possible for students to "make" the honor roll but not qualify for college admission or reduced insurance premiums.

Rampley-Dodge

DEXTER — Before a setting of an arched candelabra with yellow tapers, flanked by large arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and potted ferns, wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Claudia Kay Dodge and Kenneth Larry Rampley. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Marshall Dark at First Missionary Baptist Church May 27.

Miss Dodge is the daughter of Mrs. Fred F. Dodge of Dexter and the bridegroom is the son of Frank Rampley of Bloomfield.

Organist was Mrs. Betty Garner who played pre-nuptial selections, "We've Only Just Begun," 'Love Story," "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," "Romeo and Juliet" and the Traditional "Wedding March." "The Wedding Prayer" was played as the couple knelt for the nuptial blessing.

Given in marriage by her brother, Steve Dodge, the bride had selected a gown that she and a cousin, Miss Tricia Jackson had designed and fashioned. The gown of bridal satin featured an empire waist of embroidered lace trim and matching lace appliques on the long skirt, rounded neckline, long Victorian puff sleeves and a detachable train rimmed with matching embrodiered lace. Her veil of bridal illusion was attached to a headpiece of organza rosettes and fell in layers to the waist and a longer layer to chapel length. Her bridal bouquet was composed of a cascade of yellow mums, white carnations and ivy.

Maid of honor was Miss Linda Kaye Rampley of Bloomfield.

Candlelighter was Miss Jeanne Jenkins.

Best man was Charles Schefer, Bell City. Serving as ushers were Steve Kilby of Columbia and Leonard Shaver of Dexter.

Guest book attendant was Miss Cathy Meadows of Dudley.

A reception was held in the church basement.

Miss Kay Roberts, Miss Tricia Jackson and Miss Judy Christian, all of Dexter, and Mrs. Beverly Kilby of Columbia assisted with the serving.

The couple left on a wedding trip to the Ozarks.

The couple will reside at 1206 North Sassafras in Dexter. The bride graduated from Dexter High School in 1972 and plans to attend nursing school at Poplar Bluff.

The bridegroom graduated from Bell City High School in 1969 and is employed by Stites Concrete of Dexter.

Graham-Haworth

MALDEN — The wedding of Miss Barbara Kaye Haworth and Jay Wray Graham took place June 3 at First Christian Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Haworth of Malden and Mr. and Mrs. Jay C. Graham of O'Fallon.

The double- ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Bob Brock of Cherryvale, Kan.

Stuart Tyler of Mechanicsville, Va., organist, played the Wedding March and accompanied Miss Claudia Slaneker of Santa Cruz, Calif., as she sang "Memories" written by the groom for the bride, "Wedding Prayer" and "They Surrender All."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk organza over bridal satin. The fitted bodice of imported French re-embroidered lace, etched with sequins and seed pearls, featured a stand-up collar, and long, full organza sleeves appliqued with lace and ending in wide, lace cuffs which were closed with self buttons. The slightly full, floor- length skirt was enhanced at the hemline with matching lace appliques adorned with sequins and pearls.

Lace leaves and an organza and lace bow, trimmed with seed pearls held secure her four- tiered veil of illusion edged with lace. The veil extended to Cathedral length and was adorned with appliques of matching lace. White peau shoes completed her wedding attire.

She carried a bouquet of Cattleya orchids and pink roses nestled in baby's breath.

Mrs. Larry Force of Memphis, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Jeanie Moore of Malden and Miss Shirley Davis of Bernie.

Charles Mays of Muskogee, Okla., served as best man, and the groomsmen were Larry Force of Memphis and Rance Hopwood of Malden. The ushers were Randy Hector of Malden and Dave Morton of Ohaha, Neb.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

Assisting in serving the guests were Miss Georgia Anderson, Miss Susie Anderson, , and and Mrs. Martin Lucas. Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. Sparrel Davis and Mrs. Glen Hopwood were in charge of the reception.

Guests were pre- registered in the church foyer by Miss Sherri Haworth, sister of the bride.

The bride graduated from Malden High School and attended Ozark Bible College at Joplin.

The bridegroom graduated from Fort Zumwalt High School in O'Fallon and from Ozark Bible College, where he received a bachelor of sacred literature degree. The couple will reside temporarily in O'Fallon and in the near future will go to Toronto, Canada, where they will both work with the Toronto Christian Mission. Graham will make tapes and programs to be radioed behind the Iron Curtain.

Out- of- town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Delores Shafner of San Jose, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brock of Cherryvale, Kan.; Bob R. D. Fox of Little Rock, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fox and family of Newport, Ark.; Mrs. C. H. Force of Memphis; Mrs. William E. Gordon of Risco; Mrs. Woodrow New and Kathy, Mrs. Radan Keene and Mrs. Mike Keene of Clarkton; Mr. and Mrs. John Clement, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Barnhardt and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis and Charles of Bernie; John Crosby, Mrs. Wendell Crosby and Mrs. E. J. Williams of Parma; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lucas of East Prairie and Mrs. Elaine McCracken of Kansas City.

Artists And Craftsmen To Participate In Lebanon Fair

LEBANON — Craftsmen and artists from the four-state area of Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma have been invited to participate in what has been termed the Ozaks' newest and most unique arts and crafts fair to be held at historic Orla Mill near Lebanon this fall.

Date for the event at the old restored grist mill 16 miles southeast of Lebanon on the Osage Fork of the Gasconade River has been set for Sept. 23 and 24, according to Orla Mill, Inc., which is sponsoring the fair.

Directors anticipate over 100 exhibitors and several thousand persons to attend the two-day event. Exhibits will include such crafts as oil and watercolor painting, quilting, woodcarving, candles, homemade soap, neelecraft, pottery and handcrafts of all kinds.

Refreshments will be served on the mill grounds. Hours for the fair will be from 9 a.m. to dusk on Saturday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday. Visitors to the fair will be within a short drive of Bennett Spring State Park, known for its trout fishing, and the Lake of the Ozarks. Roads to and from the area are paved.

Booth space will be rented to exhibitors who will display and sell their wares on the picturesque mill grounds. Some displays will be placed inside the mill house. Persons or groups wishing to exhibit native handcrafts and artwork at the fair should write Orla Mill, Inc., 364 N. Jefferson, Lebanon, Mo., or call (417) 532-3581. Registration deadline for exhibitors is Aug. 15.

Couples who say they have never quarreled in 30 years of marriage are either unique or suffering from temporary amnesia.

Health Program Possible Issue

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A compulsory national health program for all Americans presented by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, A-Mass. and Rep. Wilbur O. Mills, D-Ark., and the political implications of their joint appearance, highlighted the regional hearing of the Democratic National Platform Committee Saturday.

Although financing and other mechanics of the health insurance plan have not been worked out, the program appeared likely to become a plank in the party platform to counter a more-limited employer-employe health insurance proposal by President Nixon.

Outside the hearing, Mills and Kennedy fielded more questions about the possibility of their being running mates at the Democratic National Convention than about the health program. Kennedy repeatedly said he was not a candidate but Mills said the him: "I just hope you're looking at the ticket."

Mills, grinning broadly with each question, was asked if kennedy might be the presidential candidate with himself as a running mate.

"I hope you're looking at the two nominees right now," Mills said. "In reverse order." Biographical material on Mills furnished to the hearing was stamped at the top, "Mills for President."

Kennedy, questioned again about his political plans, finally laughed and said, "Let's talk about health."

The regional hearing was the seventh in a series of 12 and it produced dozens of witnesses, each with a cause; minority groups, women's rights, prisoners, homosexuals, white ethnic problems, senior citizens, consumer matters, drug abuse, pension funds, education, abortion, anti-abortion, welfare rights, ecology, farm workers, the peace movement, party reforms and others.

Witnesses repeatedly called the Democratic party "the party of the people" and expressed the belief tht only the federal government was powerful enoough to attack and solve the domestic problems.

Elmer Hammond was there from the Pruitt-Igoe housing project in St. Louis. He said the federal government built it "as a prize," in the 1950s but now it has turned into "vast chaos.... a jungle."

The government really doesn't know what to do with Pruitt-Igoe," Hammond said. When asked what should be done, he said angrily: "Tear it down. Something decent should be provided," he said, so women are not afraid to step out of their doors. "Pruitt-Igoe is a national problem."

Mayor A. J. Cervantes of St. Louis repeated his call for a massive federal attack to rehabilitate the nation's cities, something similar to rehabilitate the nation's cities, something similar to the post-World War II Marshall Plan for Europe. He also called for the federal government to provide up to 90 per cent of financing for urban mass transit systems and subsidies to keep bus lines operating.

Harold J. Gibbons, international vice president of the Teamsters Union, said there should be a convention plank calling for a minimum wage of $2.50 an hour instead of the present $1.60. He proposed a reduction in the work week from 40 to 30 hours and continuous unemployment pay for workers at 75 per cent of wages until they return to work.

Elbert Hill, a member of the United Auto Workers Union in St. Louis called for a right-towork plank, saying compulsory unionism takes away a worker's freedom of choice.

Agnes Picks Up Speed

APALACHICOLA, Fla. (AP)—Florida's panhandle was lashed by gales and crashing seas today as Hurricane Agnes thundered toward a landfall, with 14 person killed after eight tornadoes had touched down in various parts of the state. The Weather Bureau said all apparently were spwaned by Agnes.

Seven persons were killed in south Florida and seven died earlier in Cuba as the storm raked the tip of the island and roared northward through the Gulf of Mexico.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami said the hurricane's 80-mile-an-hour winds were bearing down on Apalachicola, a sleepy town in the center of a popular tourist area.

"She's getting very close to land now," said forecaster Arnold Sugg.

The Hurricane Center said Agnes' eye was just off the panhandle coast.

Highest sustained winds were estimated between 75 to 80 m.p.h. with gusts whipping up to 95 m.p.h. in squalls.

A tornado watch was issued for an area 80 miles either side of a line from Brunswick to Columbus, Ga., and flash flood watches were posted for southern Georgia and northern Florida.

Tor nadoes were blamed for five of the deaths in Florida while two persons were reported drowned in Franklin County near Apalachicola.

Four persons were killed and scores injured early today in Okeechobee, when a twister swept into the tiny central Florida community

Doctors, Industrialists Among Dead In Crash

LONDON (AP) — A British jetliner crashed Sunday just after taking off for Brussels, killing all 118 persons aboard. It was the worst air crash on British soil, and the dead included 34 Americans.

Among the victims were at least 12 British physicians on their way to a professional congress and several top leaders of Irish industry.

The three-jet Trident airliner, operated by British European Airways, plunged into a field near a busy road two minutes after taking off from London's Heathrow Airport. The plane was full, many of the passengers having booked seats to beat the international pilot's strike today.

Britain's aerospace minister, Michael Heseltine, visited the crash site and said later "both flight recorders on the plane have been recovered and their information will be fed into computers to help the official inquiry into the disaster."

Most of the Irish victims were members of a delegation of industrialists going to Brussels for talks at the headquarters of the Common Market.

Among them were Con Smith, president of the Confederation of Irish Industry; Michael Sweetman, an economist and writer who was director of the Irish Council of the Eruopean Movement; Ivan Webb, chairman of the Council of the Irish Employers' Federation; and Guy Jackson, an executive of Guinness Brewery who played on Ireland's Davis Cup tennis team.

The doctors were traveling to an international homeopathic congress. Among them were Dr. Thomas Fergus Stewart, an authority on homeopathy, and his wife Dr. Elizabeth Stewart. He was superintendent of a hospital in Glasgow, Scotland.

FATALITY ANALYSIS FILE: AN EFFORT TO SAVE LIVES

JEFFERSON CITY -- Although he retired from the Missouri State Highway Patrol in 1963, Paul E. Corl still investigages as many as 10 or 12 fatal traffic accidents in a single day.

However, Corl no longer is confronted with the grisly scene of entangled flesh and steel. Instead he conducts his investigation from behind a walnut desk in the offices of the Missouri Division of Highway Safety. The former trooper has a new job and title -- traffic fatality analyst.

The reports are submitted to him by the various law enforcement agencies across the state for inclusion in a nationwide Fatality Analysis File.

FAF is part of the first organized national effort to reduce fatal accidents through the determination of their causes. Missouri's program, the first of its kind, is fully funded through a $25 thousand grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation. A $50 thousand federal grant is expected to continue the program next year.

"I think it's an extremely important program for the state of Missouri," Robert E. Burgess, director of the division, said. "Previously just gut decisions and judgements, rather than absolute facts, were used to determine the cause of fatal accidents."

The file is based primarily on hard accident reports, which are in reality the field reports filled out by the officers at the scene of a crash.

It is Corl's job to investigate beyond these field reports before forwarding them to Washington where they are placed in a computerized nationwide fatality analysis file by the National Highway Safety Administration.

"Officers don't have time to make a complete investigation to make a determination," Corl said. "The FAF has to go beyond the hard report to find out the cause of an accident."

Corl's work does not begin until about 10 to 15 days after a fatal crash occurs. During this period, the field reports work their way through channels to him.

Once in Corl's hands, he begins to supplement the field report with such information as the coroner's decision, the driver's driving record background and physical condition prior to the accident.

"We want to know if the driver had any previous violations or accidents, or was imbibing prior to the accident," Corl said.

Corl also has to determine the background of the vehicles involved in the fatal accidents which would include any history of accidents or mechanical defects. He also will follow up on those injured in an accident, checking into some factor existing at the scene that made possible the survival of an individual who received injuries. One such factor, Corl said, is the promptness in the arrival of emergency medical service.

Other information included on the extensive legal-size questionaires that must be completed by Corl and his staff include: dynamics of the accident, location, lighting, weather, time of day, day of week, and road conditions.

Young Demos Of St. Louis County Endorse Dowd

ST. LOUIS -- The United Young Democrats of St. Louis County have announced their endorsement of Edward L. Dowd for Governor.

Doug Pew, president of the club, announced the Young Democrat endorsement in a statement issued through Dowd headquarters in St. Louis.

Pew said, "Ed Dowd is the only candidate not tarnished by scandals and hints of conflict of interest that are increasingly, in the public's mind, being associated with various public officials."

"Dowd's past record insures that, as governor, he will be his own man, free from political entanglements and able to lead Missouri into the future with confidence and a sense of purpose."

How to beat the savings squeeze.

It's so hard to save a buck. By the time all the bills are paid, there's nothing left to squeeze out of your paycheck for savings.

But there is a way to build a nest egg without having to worry about it. When you join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, an amount you designate will be set aside automatically from each paycheck and invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. By saving a little from each paycheck, you don't feel the pinch. And before long, you'll find you've a sizable nest egg stashed away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Ease your savings squeeze. Join the Payroll Savings Plan.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When matured, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a good way to save.

Take stock in America.
Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Reuss Masters One-Hitter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jerry Reuss and Steve Arlin gave Philadelphia and Pittsburgh the old 1-2 Sunday while Tom Seaver delivered his knockout punch on Cincinnati.

Reuss, 23-years-old today, came within three outs of giving himself a birthday to remember. He held the Phillies hitless for eight innings before Larry Bowa ripped a leadoff double in the ninth, then finished with a one-hit 10-0 victory that enabled the Houston Astros to close in on the Reds in the National League West.

San Diego's Arlin fired 1-0 two-hitter at the hard-hitting Pirates, the second straight shutout for the lowly Padres over baseball's world champions, and dropped them into second place in the NL East, one-half game behind New York.

The Mets slipped back into first place when Seaver checked the Reds on five hits for his first complete game since April 26 to become the NL's first nine-game winner and also slammed a tie-breaking home run in the seventh inning. The defeat sliced Cincinnati's margin over Houston to 1 1/2 games.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs edged Los Angeles 5-4 on Don Kessinger's 11th-inning single, Montreal's Mike Torrez tossed a two-hitter to beat Atlanta 2-1 and San Francisco trounced St. Louis 8-2.

Reuss allowed only four baserunners, all on walks, until Bowa ripped a 1-1 pitch down the third base line to end his no-hit dreams.

"It was a good pitch," Reuss said, "a low fast ball. I kind of had mixed emotions, but it did take some of the pressure off.

Baseball Tournaments Set

The first step toward a state baseball crown takes place Saturday, when the Sikeston 13-year- old all-stars battle the Tri- County All-Stars in a two- out- of- three couble elimination District 3 playoff at V.F.W. Stadium. The winner will advance into the state finals June 30 at Chaffee.

Larry Lancaster and Charlie Dye will manage the Sikeston 13- year- old unit announced over the weekend.

Thirteen- year- olds making up the Sikeston All-Star team ininclude: David Deal, Larry Keller, Jeff Limbaugh, Kenny Standridge, Allen Davidson, Bill Hampton, Bob Leible, Larry Jackson, Rob Stearnes, Gary Silverthorn, Mark Silverthorn, Joel Montgomery, Jr., Garry Griffen, Derek Lefler, Mark Launius, Scott Scherer, Tony Delaroasa and Dwayne Barnett.

The Sikeston unit will play the Tri- County All- Star unit, made up of boys from nine towns. Teams making up the Tri- County All-Stars include Bertrand, Oran, Vanduser, Benton, Bloomfield, Lutesville, New Hamburg, Delta and Advance.

Saturday's first of two games in the District 3 playoff will get under way at 2 p.m. The second game gets under way at 7 p.m. If a third game is needed in the double elimination tourney it will be played Sunday at 2 p.m.

During July Sikeston will be host to both the Junior and Senior Babe Ruth District 3 playoffs. The junior division, which includes the 13, 14 and 15- year- olds will play July 17 in a six- team, double elimination tourney.

Teams entered include Sikeston, Charleston, New Madrid County, Chaffee, East Prairie and Tri- County. The winner will advance to the state finals July 26 at Joplin. State winner advances to the regional tournament scheduled at Fargo, N. D., Aug. 8-13. Regional winners move to the World Series the following week in Pine Bluff, Ark.

The Senior Babe Ruth playoff, for players 16, 17 and 18 years of age, is scheduled for the weekend of July 14, 15 and 16. Bankers And IBEW Claim Jr. Victories

Bank of Sikeston and International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers posted the only two victories in Junior Babe Ruth action over the weekend.

Both the Senior Babe Ruth League and all three of the Sikeston Little League divisions were idle over the weekend.

Bank of Sikeston picked up a 4-1 opening win in the Jr. Babe Ruth League over Hart's Bread. The winning lineup only conntected for one hit in the contest, but took advantage of six Hart's Bread miscues.

Errors in the second and third inning sent a run home in each as the Bankers jumped into an early 2-1 lead. Two errors and a crucial walk in the sixth inning paved the way for the final two Bankers runs.

Self went the distance for Bank of Sikeston and collected the win. Wissman was tagged with the loss.

The second contest found IBEW an 8-5 winner over Eagles. IBEW took advantage of three second inning walks, an error, a hit batsman and only one hit jumping into a decisive 7-0 second inning lead over Eagles.

Eagles challenged the lead with 2 runs in the third and three more runs in the final inning but the IBEW squad prevailed in the 8-5 contest. Four hits in the final inning paved the Eagles' final rally in the last inning.

Eagles managed to outhit the winning IBEW squad, 8-5, as Blankenship and losing hurler Leible paced the losers with two hits apiece.

Shaffer, Shain and Barnett collected the only three hits for IBEW, while teammate Cobb went the distance for the win from the mound.

Blue Wins On Hairy Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was Mustache Day in Oakland and, for a change, things didn't get hairy for Vida Blue.

Treated to only one run in the first 25 innings he pitched this season, Blue had begun to wonder whether he was wise to abandon the steel business and end his six-week holdout for a return to baseball.

But his faith was restored by an encouraging 16-hit attack that gave the A's a 9-0 romp over Cleveland Sunday. For his part, Blue allowed just four hits and came away with his first victory of the season after three losses.

The combination of Blue on the mound and free admissions to anyone wearing a mustache, lured 33,277 fans to the ballpark in Oakland. More than 7,000 of them showed up with hair under their noses and were ushered in to watch Blue operate for no charge.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Chicago rapped Boston 8-4, Milwaukee shut out Kansas City 3-0, Minesota edged Baltimore 4-3 and Detroit shut out California 2-0. Texas' game at New York was rained out.

Watching Blue operate was certainly no charge for the slumping Indians, who've now lost 18 of their last 23 games.

Mike Epstein's ninth homer of the year and George Hendrick's No. 3 helped the A's build a 3-0 lead in the first five innings. There were two out in the sixth when the roof fell in on Cleveland.

Larry Brown walked and Blue followed with an infield hit. An error by Graig Nettles scored one run and Joe Rudi's hit brought home another. After a walk to Reggie Jackson loaded the bases, Sal Bando doubled for three more runs and the A's added a sixth run before finally being retired.

Milwaukee's nine-game losing streak ended as Skip Lockwood limited Kansas City to five hits and the Brewers shut out the Royals.

George Scott scored two of the Brewers runs—the second one when he reached second base after striking out in the sixth inning.

Scott had opened theinning by fanning but when catcher Jerry May dropped the third strike Scott took off for first base. May recovered the baseball but his throw to first struck Scott and the runner wound up on second base. He stole third and then scored on Ellie Rodriguez' second double of the game.

Baltimore's nine-game winning streak ended at the hands of Minnesota—but barely.

The Orioles, trailing 4-1, scored two runs in the eighth before reliever Wayne Granger shut off the rally.

Harmon Killebrew drilled a pair of run-scoring singles as the Twins took the early lead. Jim Perry, 6-5, was working on a two-hitter and coasting when he walked Johnny Oates in the eighth. Boog Powell singled him to third and then Brooks Robinson greeted Granger with a double, making it 4-2.

Terry Crowley followed with a single that scored one run but the Twins cut Crowley down trying to stretch his hit and then Granger bailed out of the jam by getting Dave Johnson on a fly ball.

Detroit took over first place in the AL East as Mickey Lolich shut out California for his 11th victory of the season.

Homers by Jim Northrup and Norm Cash accounted for the Tiger runs and Lolich made them stand up with a masterful seven-hitter.

McMahon Memorial

Daily Standard Sports Editor Ron Jaynes today announced another change in the paper's annual award presentations which honor coaches of the year in football and basketball and the district's number one basketball team.

Earlier this month it was announced that the coaches of the year awards would be made memorial presentations in honor of two of the district's most distinguished coaches, Arnold Ryan and Kenny Knox.

"It is with both honor and sorrow that I announce that the Number One team award presentation will be memorial to coach M.M. McMahon," Jaynes said. "Coach McMahon made my job easier with his cooperation and help, and I feel that his name upon the annual award will add prestige to the honor."

McMahon coached for 37 years and served youth with his knowledge and guidance. He died June 11 due to a heart attack. He was coach at Holcomb High School at the time.

Besides his coaching, coach Mac served on the basketball advisory committee of the Missouri State High School Activities Association and was the senior member of The Daily Standard sports panel of coaches, serving all five years on the board.

ZWOLLE, La. (AP) — Jim Welch of Amelia, La., recorded a catch of 87 pounds, 6 1/2 ounces Saturday to capture the $5,000 first place prize in the National Open Bass Tournament.

Dr. Jim Hebert of Sulphur, La., got $500 for the biggest bass which weighed 7 pounds, 1 1/2 ounces.

No Relief For Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Pitcher Sam McDowell of the San Francisco Giants said Sunday he didn't mind being pulled from a tied game against the St. Louis Cardinals since it meant a win for him and his club.

"I like to finish every game I start, like most guys," said McDowell. "But when you've got people like (Ed) Goodson sitting on the bench and it means winning a game, you don't mind coming out of there."

Sam was removed from the contest by Giants manager Charlie Fox in the top of the eighth, with the score tied 2-2.

Pinch hitter Goodson faced cardinal reliever Diego Segui and presented him with a tworun single which put San Francisco ahead to stay.

The Cardinal starter, Scipio Spinks, got the loss as San Francisco went on to win 8-2. Spinks was sent to the clubhouse early in the Giant eighth. Manager Red Schoendienst said he hoped Segui's touted fork ball would stop the Giants' drive.

"I gave my father his Father's Day present last week when he saw me hit a homer in Pittsburgh. This was a little extra," Goodson said of his single. "I was looking for either a fork ball or a curve. He (Segui) threw me a curve, which hung, and make it easy to hit. I jumped on it."

Goodson has been hitting about .300 in his fill-in duties. He batted for McDowell Sunday.

McDowell got his eighth season victory with last inning help from youngster Randy Moffitt.

The victory before 19,957 home fans made the Giants even on the road with 14 wins and 14 defeats. The club is a shaky 7-28 in play at Candlestick Park.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, June 19, the 171st day of 1972. There are 195 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1819, the SS Savannah arrived in Liverpool, England, after the first Atlantic crossing by a steamship.

On this date:

In 1586, colonists sailed from Roanoke Island, N.C., ending the first settlement of the English in America.

In 1754, a congress of seven American colonies was held in Albany, N.Y., to discuss union for defense.

In 1867, Emperor Maximilian of Mexico was executed.

In 1756, in India, 146 British prisoners being held by natives suffocated in a dungeon which became known as the Black Hole of Calcutta.

In 1862, the U.S. Congress prohibited slavery in U.S. territories.

In 1953, Ethel and Julius Rosenberg were executed at New York's Sing Sing Prison after being convicted as spies.

Ten years ago: U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and French President Charles de Gaulle met in Paris and discussed the sharp differences between the United States and France over nuclear tactics in the Atlantic Alliance.

Five years ago: Egypt's President Abdel Nasser named a new Cabinet, with himself as premier, in a government shakeup after Egyptian defeat in the six- day war with Israel.

One year ago: Protests mounted in Congress over an attempt by the Nixon administration to suppress a New York Times' series on Vietnam based on secret Pentagon documents.

CHECK FROM THE CHIEF—Mrs. W. C. Westmoreland, honorary vice-president of the Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Airmen's Club, accepts a check for $3,000 on behalf of the club from Chaplain (Maj. Gen.) Gerhardt W. Hyatt, Army chief of chaplains. The check represents a collection taken on a designated Sunday of all Army chapels in the greater Washington area. The club, in operation since 1872, is a "home away from home for active-duty enlisted men" visiting the Washington area.

Wallace May Walk With Help

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — George C. Wallace's doctors have handed him a superb Fathers' Day present: word that he has a 90-per-cent chance of being able to move about with assistance within six months.

Following delicate surgery Sunday to remove from his spinal canal a bullet that has left him paralyzed from the waist down, the Alabama governor's physicians indicated he will be able to attend next month's Democratic National Convention.

But they said there is less than a 50-50 chance he will ever be able to walk normally again. Chances are better, they implied, that Wallace will be able to partially conquer his paralysis to the extent that he could walk a few steps with the aid of braces and crutches.

They stressed an even-morelikely prospect: that Wallace will be able to stand unassisted and to move about with the help of crutches and braces "by swinging along, rather than walking," even if the paralysis persists. This would mean he would not have to spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair.

These possibilities were outlined at a news conference several hours after completion of the 90-minute operation to remove the bullet.

Wallace was shot several times May 15 as he concluded a rally at Laurel, Md., in his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Dr. Stacy Rollins, the Holy Cross Hospital neurosurgeon who headed the seven-man operating team, said Wallace's spinal cord—the telephonecable-like rope of nerve fibers that transmits nerve messages between the brain and the rest of the body—was bruised but intact.

150 Dead In Storm

HONG HONG (AP) — More than 150 persons were feared dead today after three days of torrential rains, floods and landslides on Hong Kong island and the adjoining Kowloon peninsula.

Avalanches roared down two hillsides Sunday night, wiping out an area of squatter huts on Kowloon and demolishing three apartment buildings in a chaine reaction on Victoria Peak, on the island.

Floods, landslides and rock falls were caused in the British colony by the three-day storm that dumped more than 25 inches of rain on the area.

The chain reaction on the Peak started when an old, unoccupied, two-story structure on an upper level road collapsed onto a six-story apartment building on the next level down. This building had been ordered evacuated earlier when torrential rains undermined part of its foundation, but it was not known whether all residents had moved out.

The two-story and six-story buildings formed the nucleus of the avalanche that roared on down the hillside and demolished a 12-story apartment building, then veered and hit a 14-story apartment house.

Workshop For Custodians Opens Today

POPLAR BLUFF — A four-day class for custodians of schools and other public buildings will be conducted today through Thursday at Three Rivers Community College by the Missouri State Department of Education.

TRCC has been designated as the instructional center for the four counties of the Three Rivers Junior College District (Butler, Carter, Ripley and Wayne) and for all of Oregon, Stoddard and Dunklin counties and the cities of Risco and Gideon in New Madrid county.

The classes are for custodians requiring state certification. To be certified, custodians of schools and various governmental buildings are required to attend classes for a specified number of hours each year.

The fees are charged for the classes, which will be conducted by four instructors assigned by the State Department of Education. Hershel Batten, director of maintenance for TRCC, is one of 29 persons designated by the state as instructors in custodian and maintenance practices.
